GARFIELD MAY BE NAMED COAL DICTATOR

WILLIAMS COLLEGE HEAD LOOKED OVER FOR APPOINTMENT

Son of Martyred President Held to Be Choice, But Wilson Has Given No Indication.

PRESIDENT THINKS COAL IS TOO HIGH

Washington, Aug. 21.—There were outward indications today that President Wilson was seriously considering the appointment of President Harry A. Garfield, of Williams college as coal administrator. Mr. Garfield already has been named as a member of the food administration committee which will fix the price of the 1917 wheat crop.

Whether Mr. Garfield could take on the duties of the coal administrator in addition was not made clear.

President Wilson cancelled the usual Tuesday cabinet meeting to devote his attention to the coal situation. President Wilson is about to appoint a coal administrator but he has not selected the men for the place. It is said the president feels there is no question that the price of coal is too high and is anxious to settle that question as soon as possible.

President Wilson's next move toward the establishment of government control of the coal industry, following the appointment of Judge Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the Union Pacific railroad as director of priority of transportation, is expected to be the selection within a day or so of a coal administrator. There was no intimation to be had today concerning the identity of the man the president will name to control coal production and distribution and exercise the price fixing powers given in the food bill.

Summary of the Day's War News

The Austrian line on the Isonzo front is beginning to bend and give way at various points under the furious attacks of the Italians. Rome announces officially. The Italians are making progress toward a success which, the statement says, is becoming delineated in spite of undiminished resistance by the Austrians. More than 10,000 prisoners have been taken in the new battle of the Isonzo and strong Austrian defenses have fallen into the hands of the attackers. Seldom during the war has an official communication been worded in such confident terms and unless the Austrians are able to rally their shattered forces developments of far-reaching importance may follow quickly.

Canadian troops made another attack early this morning. Germans who advanced at the same time made a hurried retreat on encountering the Canadians. Few details have been reported of the subsequent fighting which developed into one of the most desperate hand to hand struggles of the war.

The German reaction to the successful French stroke at Verdun came

PEACE REPLY HAS NOT GONE

Wilson Still Has Matter in Hand and Will Send It Through London.

GERMANY HAS NO

WORD TO REPLY

Offers Already Made Were Spurned and First Word is Due from Allies.

Washington, Aug. 21.—The United States has not yet acknowledged the receipt of Pope Benedict's peace appeal, but will do so through the British foreign office which communicated the communication through Ambassador Page.

Secretary Lansing made it clear today that the subject of peace still was in the hands of President Wilson. He said he had received no official communications from the other allies defining their positions. The state department has no official knowledge of the proposed conference of allies and no memoranda have passed in relation to it, but it is generally believed that an interchange of opinion is continuing and that the response of the United States will harmonize with that of others while clearly stating the position of this government.

GERMANY AWAITS FOES.

Copenhagen, Aug. 21.—At a meeting of the main committee of the reichstag called for today Chancellor Michaelis was asked to declare the pope's peace note in general accord with the German government's peace proposal of December 12, 1916, and the recent reichstag resolution on the same subject and therefore sympathetically received in Germany.

The chancellor will say that Germany has earlier indicated its desire to make peace the first word must come from the other side.

A meeting of the Bundesrat committee on foreign affairs had been called

GNAWING FROM COB ADDS MUCH TO CORN PRICE

Chicago, Aug. 21.—A member of the corps of food administrators for Illinois today called attention to the wide differences in the price of corn on the cob received by the producer and that paid by the ultimate consumer in Chicago. It was pointed out that commission men were paying 16 1/2 cents a dozen ears, or one and a third cents an ear.

Retail grocers sold it at forty cents a dozen or three and a third cents an ear. At the leading hotels and restaurants the vegetable brought thirty cents an order of one ear, while at the moderate priced eating places it could be had for fifteen cents an ear.

TAX WEALTH; NOT PEOPLE

LaFollette in a Senate Speech Draws Dismal Picture.

RICHES MUST SERVE AS WELL AS HUMANS

Wisconsin Man Sees Vision of Bread Lines the Coming Winter.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—Conscription of wealth to pay for the war was urged in the senate today by Senator LaFollette, of Wisconsin, in presenting the minority plans of the finance committee for higher rates in the war tax bill on war profits and incomes. He suggested increasing the $2,000,000,000 bill to more than $3,500,000,000 by such increases with elimination of consumption taxes. He also urged that less bonds and more taxes be authorized.

The Wisconsin senator declared governments were demanding war while their peoples were asking for peace and contended that 85 per cent of the men drafted are protesting. Bonds Desired by Rich. Large bond issues desired by wealthy interests, he contended, inflate prices and increase the present high cost of living which he asserted already imposed a fifty to one hundred per cent war burden upon the masses. The liberty loan, he said was made possible by an "iron hand within a kid glove" and persistent advertising methods. The pending bill, Mr. LaFollette stated, provides by taxes but 17 per cent of this year's war expenses while Great Britain imposes 26 per cent. The next year's war expenses, he predicted, may reach $30,000,000,000 or $40,000,000,000 and he urged that huge war profits and incomes of wealthy persons by higher surtaxes be made to bear the burden of the war.

Urges Increase of Taxes. Urging a larger proportion of taxes, the Wisconsin senator said:

GRAIN DEALERS AND MILLERS OF STATE TO MEET

Indianapolis, Aug. 21.—A meeting of all grain dealers and millers in the state has been called for 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon by Charles B. Riley, secretary of the Indiana Grain Dealers' association and the Indiana Millers' association. The purpose is to discuss the food conservation movement.

YET IN THE AIR AS TO HOLDING EXTRA SESSION

Indianapolis, Aug. 21.—Nothing definite about a special session of the Indiana legislature had been decided early today, and no decision may be reached before late tonight or early tomorrow it was said. A conference of the leaders in the legislature last week it was said, had been held.

GRAND ARMY HAS PARADE

Annual March of Grizzled Veterans of Civil War Held in Boston.

BOYS IN BLUE ARE SEEN BY CROWDS

Good Weather for Thinning Ranks to Follow the Flag Again.

Boston, Aug. 21.—Several thousand aged men in blue, survivors of the army which fought for the union more than half a century ago, marched with brave step through Boston streets today. The route was the shortest ever selected for the annual parade of the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The veterans were favored by a clear sky, moderate temperature and a refreshing breeze. The chief marshal was J. Payson Bradley, of this city.

In the line were the departments of the Grand Army in order of seniority of organization. The officers and past commanders-in-chief in automobiles, the Sons of Veterans, former prisoners of war, naval veterans and a guard of disabled veterans in cars.

Commander-in-chief William J. Patterson reviewed the parade from a large grandstand on the Tremont street side of the Common. Governor McCall was at the state house and Mayor Curley at the city hall.

COMMISSIONERS TO RUSSIA MEET TO MAKE REPORT

Washington, Aug. 21.—Elihu Root and other members of the American mission which visited Russia recently have returned to Washington to close up the affairs of the mission. Formal reports by Mr. Root for the commission as a whole and of the individual members upon the subjects which they were specially charged to investigate already have been submitted to Secretary Lansing and have been referred to the state and navy departments. It is not the present intention to make any of them public, although the substance of some may appear later in development of the war plans of the United States. Mr. Root is deeply interested in the immediate adoption of some of the measures for the relief of Russia which were touched upon in the reports. That is particularly true of the needs of Russia for locomotives and rolling stock to keep the armies properly supplied with food and munitions.

WHERE SUMMER BOARDERS ARE SPEEDED AWAY

Copenhagen, Aug. 21.—Speed the parting guests" is now the motto of the Bavarian government, finding that the plague of tourists in the Bavarian highlands and other resorts is eating the natives out of house and home. Visitors must have been limited to one week's stay and the police have been instructed to expel without even this delay any outsider guilty or suspected of buying up food. Every effort will be made to discourage the winter season at the mountain resorts.

WEST VIRGINIA SHOWS HOW TO DO A GOOD BIT

Huntington, W. Va., Aug. 21.—So that some practical use may be made of the thousands of gallons of intoxicants which are being confiscated by state prohibition authorities District Attorney F. W. McCulloch has presented a proposal to federal department of agriculture heads that the liquor be redistilled and the reclaimed alcohol used in the manufacture of war munitions. Large quantities of intoxicants are daily being confiscated by state prohibition authorities.

EIGHT KILLED IN AUTO SMASH ON GRADE CROSSING

Saybrook Junction, Conn., Aug. 21. A freight engine running light over the Shore line division of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad late last night struck and crushed at a crossing an automobile owned and driven by Robert H. Rohloff, of New Haven, who had with him a party of four adults and four children. All the members of the automobile party were killed except Louise W. Weyel, aged 9.

The dead are: Robert H. Rohloff, Gustave Weyel, his wife and their three children, Miss Mabel Wagner and Mrs. Louis Astorino.

All belonged in New Haven to which city the party was returning after a trip to New London.

MARINES IN REAL GAME

Uncle Sam's First Fighters Getting Ready to Enter Trenches.

HARD PRACTICE AT MODERN WARFARE

Show Great Form and Will Be Prepared Soon to Show Stuff.

American Training Camp in France, Aug. 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Training of some of the battalions has progressed to such a point that sham attacks on one trench system are being carried out with a degree akin to actual warfare. Thus far warfare has been only theoretical, but before long the troops expect to have the experience of watching the effect of real artillery upon the trenches. The marines are giving some especially lively engagements this week with their French instructors. French chasseurs acting as the enemy have been making attacks upon the marines' trench system.

The marines have been making stout resistance, and wherever the "enemy" penetrated their lines they organized a counterattack which quickly ejected the intruders. The real object of these preliminary attacks is to get officers and men acquainted with what are known at the front as operation orders. It is the first step toward learning the rudiments of a highly organized part of modern warfare where every step and every detail is worked out in advance on a pre-arranged plan and must be strictly adhered to.

One great difference from real warfare, however, is the fact that in battles with the marines the "enemy" has been allowed to fall into the hands of the defending garrison.

This will be changed later and the American trench guard will be called upon to resist surprise attacks in force. Another valuable feature is in teaching Americans the great importance of what is known as liaison work—the maintenance of communication with supporting artillery with flanking forces, with airplanes and with information centers. Attacks are accompanied by a lively rocket display as SOS signals are sent up for defending the curtain of fire from the artillery and calling reserves from companies in support of the trenches. The rockets are also used in the guise of artillery fire by shortening and lengthening ranges. The evacuation of wounded under theoretical shell fire is another feature of sham battles which is receiving attention.

PATRIOTISM IS PLEA OF SUNDAY LAW VIOLATORS

New York, Aug. 21.—Declaring that instead of being summoned into court to answer a charge of violating the Sunday law they should be commended for rendering service to a patriotic cause, Police Court Magistrate McQuade today dismissed summonses against John McGraw, manager of the New York Nationals, and Christy Matheson, manager of the Cincinnati Nationals. The baseball managers conducted a baseball game Sunday for which no fee was charged, which was followed by a concert by which some $100 was raised for the Red Cross.

ITALIAN SMASH ON THE ISONZO FRONT SUCCESS

Italians Have Taken Ten Thousand Prisoners and Decisive Result Is Said to Be Imminent.

CANADIANS MAKE NEW GAINS AT LENS

Rome, Aug. 21.—More than 10,000 prisoners had been taken by the Italians in their new offensive up to yesterday evening, the war office announces.

The great battle on the Isonzo front continues without interruption. The war office states that the Austrian line is beginning to bend and give way at various points.

The Italians supported by floating and fixed batteries and mortars are marching toward success which, the statement says, is becoming delineated in spite of undiminished enemy resistance.

CANADIANS IN GAIN.

London, Aug. 21.—Canadian troops around Lens launched another attack on the western environment of the French mining city at 4:30 o'clock this morning reports the Reuter correspondent from the British headquarters.

The attacks developed into one of the most desperate hand to hand battles of the war. When the Canadians went over the top they saw masses of gray figures advancing towards them in the thick haze. Both sides had planned the attack at the same moment. Fifteen minutes after the clash came the Germans were making their last stand on the parapet of their trench. They then retreated rapidly.

HIT RUMANIAN FRONT.

Petrograd, Aug. 21.—Austro-German forces are making vigorous attacks on the southern Rumanian front. The war office announcement of today says that stubborn resistance is being offered by the Russians and Rumanians who, however, were forced back at several points. On the Caucasian front where the Russians recently took the offensive, a further large advance has been made, a series of villages being captured.

BATTLE STILL ON.

Berlin, Aug. 21.—The battle before Verdun has not yet ended, the German headquarters staff announced today. This morning fresh engagements developed at various places. The statement adds: "Our troops and leaders anticipate a favorable battle."

In many places colored and white French troops penetrated the German defensive zone in which every step forward

HOOKWORM HAS MADE INVASION OF ARMY CAMPS

Washington, Aug. 21.—Discovery of hookworm infection in forty-seven out of seventy-five military recruits recently mobilized for war service has caused public health service authorities to recommend prompt examination of all units of the national guard and national army at present organized, especially those from the warmer portions of the country.

Prevalence of hookworm was found by Dr. Ch. Wardell Stiles, of the public health service, at a government reservation where he was making experiments. Complaint by a recruit of not feeling well after a period of rest following mobilization was the first indication of the disease.

fection was found. Other examinations showed a high percentage of hookworm. Dr. Stiles has reported to the public health service that failure to locate hookworm cases undoubtedly will result in unjust and preventable punishment of soldiers for offenses due to medical conditions.

Danger of a widespread epidemic of hookworm in Europe is pointed out if even light cases are sent to the trenches. Those dangers can be prevented to a great extent Dr. Stiles says if all the recruits are at least taken from certain states and examined for intestinal parasites before being sent to the front.

GOVERNMENT MULES MAKE CALIFORNIA TOWN REAL DESERT

San Diego, Cal., Aug. 21.—The United States army mules will make most of San Diego "dry" tonight, according to the interpretation of a ruling by the department of justice. Orders providing for the discontinuance of the sale of liquor within one-half mile of the aviation school barracks were interpreted to apply also to the entire city of the government-owned town.

where two army mules are quartered. The half mile zone from this stable includes all the principal hotels and cafes and all except half a dozen saloons and wholesale liquor houses in the city. Notice has been served on all establishments within the zone that they will have to cease selling liquors at midnight tonight or close their doors.

Today's Aid to Beauty

Hair is by far the most conspicuous thing about us and is probably the most easily damaged by bad or careless treatment. If we are very careful in hair washing, we will have virtually no hair troubles. An especially fine shampoo for this weather, one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair, that dissolves and entirely removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt, can easily be used at trifling expense by simply dissolving a teaspoonful of canthox (which you can get at any drugstore) in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. This chemically dissolves all impurities and creates a soothing, cooling lotion. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on the glossy richness of natural color, also a softness which makes it seem much heavier than it is. After a canthox shampoo, arranging the hair is a pleasure.—Advertisement.

MANY YEARS WITH WABASH.

Machinist C. C. Wire Dies After Long Illness.

Relatives of the deceased have received news of the death of Charles C. Wire, which occurred at the home of his father-in-law, Jacob Baum-bauer, in Wabash Monday. The deceased was 50 years, 9 months and 18 days old, and death was due to cancer and tuberculosis, with which he had been afflicted for a number of months. The surviving relatives are the widow and two children, Marion and Mary; three brothers and two sisters, as follows: Dr. A. V. Wire, of Wabash; Engineer Frank M. Wire, of Amarillo, Tex.; James W. Wire, of the Wabash shops at Fort Wayne; Mrs. Della Austin, of Wabash; and Mrs. Florence Kellam, of Andrews, Ind. Mr. Wire was a machinist by trade and worked in that capacity for the Wabash many years. Later he worked for the Big Four and the Chicago and Erie roads and was well known in railway and shop circles in this part of the country.

FOUR ACCIDENTS.

Some Boiler Shop Employees Hurt, One Painfully.

There were four personal injury cases at the Pennsylvania shops last night and this morning, but only one was bad. The most serious was that of W. A. Esler, a boilermaker, which occurred this morning. He was at work in the cab of an engine when a part of the reverse lever fell upon and badly bruised one of his feet. He was taken to the Lutheran hospital where Dr. Van Sweringen attended him. It is not believed any of the bones were broken. W. H. Silver, a helper in the department, had his eyes burned by the glare of the electric welder. A misdirected blow landed a heavy hammer on the left forearm of Boilermaker J. J. Haas, cutting and bruising the arm badly, and the right hand of R. M. Patterson was cut and bruised when a sledge hammer struck the member. Mr. Patterson is a tender repairman.

LOSS AND DAMAGE COMMITTEE.

Nickel Plate Freight Men Holding Important Meeting.

The loss and damage committee of the Fort Wayne division of the Nickel Plate is holding a meeting in the office of Supt. W. W. Watterson this afternoon. The object of the meeting is to devise methods of handling freight without loss or damage, a most important question in railway circles. The meeting is being attended by J. J. Kearney and J. J. Woods, of Cleveland, the former the general claim agent of the company. Others in attendance are W. F. Watterson, E. S. Kirby, H. E. Allison, E. A. Warner, E. E. Cripe, H. M. Peters, C. P. Durfee, John H. McVey, J. L. Gussey, F. Doelling, A. A. Johnson, C. F. Lyons, W. B. Link, O. L. DeVore, and G. G. Gallentine.

FIFTEEN WOMEN EMPLOYEES.

G. R. & I. Puts Them at Work in Grand Rapids Yards.

(Grand Rapids Press.) Necessities of war time have driven the Grand Rapids and Indiana Railway company to employ women workers in the yards and office at the cars shops. Formerly all employees in both offices and yards were men. Now about fifteen women are working in the yards as car cleaners and one is employed in the office as clerk. The women have not yet taken to wearing overalls, however. Continuation of the war, officials say, will make it necessary for more radical departures in the employment of women.

PENNSYLVANIA FIREMAN HURT.

H. Feltenright Injured While Out on the Road.

In alighting from his engine at Columbia City at 1 o'clock this morning, Fireman H. Feltenright, of the Pennsylvania, fell and sustained most painful injuries, necessitating relinquishment of the run over the division. He was given attention from the company's surgeon at Columbia City and later brought to Fort Wayne. It is said his back is injured and that he suffered some injury to his hips.

WILL MEET AT GOSHEN.

The fifty or more members of the Jacob S. Miller family descendants who reside in Fort Wayne and Allen and Wells counties, several of them employees in the railway and other shops in the city, are making arrangements to attend the family reunion at Goshen next Saturday. This will be the seventh reunion of the family and it will probably be the largest gathering of all. Jacob Miller was one of the pioneers of Wells county, taking up a claim on government land there in 1820. He died in 1890. The first reunion and two or three of the subsequent ones were held at Robinson park and it is probable the next one will be held in that park also. Three years ago the family reunion was held at Swinney park and The Sentinel published a picture of the group.

FELL TWENTY FEET.

The only injury sustained in a fall of twenty feet at the new Bowser office on East Creighton avenue yesterday by Paul Kiosell was a scalp wound and temporary and slight concussion of the brain. Kiosell lost his balance while at work on the building and planned headfirst to the ground. People who witnessed the accident expected to find the man dead, but he was only unconscious and did not remain in that condition long. Kiosell is employed by the contractor in the erection of the office building. He will soon be on duty again.

Twenty-Five Women at Work.

There are several hundred women ready to take employment at the Pennsylvania shops as soon as the necessary rest rooms are ready for business, which will be several days. Up to the present there are twenty-five women at work in the shops, as follows: Three in the store room, six at the round house and sixteen at the east car shops. They are doing good work.

SUFFERING FROM BLOOD POISONING.

Joseph Metker, of 919 Compagnet street, has been suffering severely for two or three days with blood poisoning as the result of a cut on one of his toes of his right foot while endeavoring to trim a corn. He is unable to get his shoe on and can scarcely walk because of the injury. Mr. Metker is employed by the city.

FOREMAN EVANS RETURNS.

R. W. Evans, assistant foreman of the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, resumed that duty this morning, after an absence of two weeks. While away he visited Altoona, New York and Atlantic City. Mrs. Evans and their son accompanied Mr. Evans on the trip.

J. Frank Kelker, motive power inspector of the Pennsylvania, is at Pittsburgh on business, and Motive Power Inspector P. H. Goda is at Logansport on a similar mission.

Theodore Deck, formerly employed in the Wayne Oil Tank and Pump works, took employment as a tester at the General Electric works with Foreman Raymond Hoffman this morning.

W. B. Johnson, Earl Moore, Russell Case and Fred Brackman, assemblers in the dynamo department of the General Electric works, are off duty today and it is supposed they are sick.

William Ruffner and L. M. Danton, of the General Electric works, returned from Philadelphia this morning, after a visit with Earl Ruffner, a brother to William, who is in the army.

Miss Catherine Daley, for some months employed as a clerk for H. J. Peters, of the tool supply department of the General Electric works, resigned for the purpose of returning to Chicago to go to school.

The fourteen time clocks purchased for use in the Wayne Knitting Mills some time ago have been installed and put in operation. These mills were the last of the big industries of Fort Wayne to adopt the time clock system.

August Gruber, assistant foreman of the Pennsylvania copper shop, and his wife have returned from an eastern tour, which included a visit at New-castle, with their son, August Gruber, Jr.

Ben Fiedler has resumed his duties in the ice machine department under Foreman Clark Orr at the General Electric works, after spending his vacation at Chicago, Milwaukee and Grand Haven.

Pennsylvania Machinist E. C. Kehling, who was injured last week when a revolving air machine caught his overalls and tore the leg of the garment out, was able to resume work this morning.

L. G. Ditton, a machinist's helper, and F. Edwards, an apprentice, resigned their positions in the Pennsylvania shops this morning for the purpose of enlisting in the United States navy.

E. E. Litot and family, the former of the Pennsylvania cost department, went from Fort Wayne direct to Atlantic City, and not to Washington as stated yesterday. Mr. Litot is on a vacation trip.

This morning Elmer Kamm began an apprenticeship in the Pennsylvania shops, his first task in that capacity being to operate one of the machines in the lathe department. The young man was previously employed as a messenger in the machine shop.

Ed Koehl, who left the city yesterday on a trip, is now in New York from whence he will go to Boston, and later to Atlantic City. He is out on a vacation and will be gone two weeks.

Mr. Koehl is stenographer for Car Shop Foreman M. W. Kemp.

Ralph Petgen, the Pennsylvania having returned from Crooked Lake, where he spent two or three weeks.

C. F. Littlefield, a tinner at the shops, resumed work yesterday, also reported for work yesterday. He had been visiting in Milwaukee.

General Foreman W. E. Madara, of the Pennsylvania machine shop, resumed charge of that department this morning, after a vacation of ten days. He was visiting relatives and friends in Pennsylvania, where he formerly resided, and Mrs. Madara and the two daughters were with him.

Miss Grace Smith and J. E. Leiter were married at the First M. E. parsonage Sunday evening and are now on a trip. The bride indicates clearly that the trend of American capital and merchandise is toward the Orient.

The groom is a well known barber and the bride had been employed as a stenographer in the production department office at the General Electric works. They are quite popular with their acquaintances.

The start was late and only one match finished. The play was scheduled to start again at 2 p. m. but was delayed by rain which made the courts temporarily unfit.

Doctor Says Crying Need Of the Woman Of Today Is More Iron In Her Blood

TO PUT STRENGTH IN HER NERVES AND COLOR IN HER CHEEKS

Any Woman Who Tires Easily, is Nervous or Irritable, or Looks Pale, Haggard and Worn Should Have Her Blood Examined for Iron Deficiency.

Administration of Nuxated Iron in Clinical Tests Gives Most Astonishing Youthful Strength and Makes Women Look Years Younger

"There can be no healthy, beautiful, rosy cheeks without iron," says Dr. Ferdinand King, a New York physician and Medical Author. "In my recent talks to physicians on the grave and serious consequences of iron deficiency in the blood of American women, I have strongly emphasized the fact that doctors should prescribe more organic iron—nuxated iron—for their nervous, run-down, weak, haggard-looking women patients. Pallor means anemia. The skin of the anemic woman is pale, the flesh flabby. The muscles lack tone, the brain fogs and the memory fails, and often they become weak, nervous, irritable, despondent and melancholy. When the iron goes from the blood of women, the roses go from their cheeks."

In the most common foods of America, the starches, sugars, table syrups, canned meats, rice, white bread, soda crackers, biscuits, macaroni, spaghetti, tapioca, sago, farina, degenerated cornmeal no longer is iron to be found. Refining processes have removed the iron of Mother Earth. By using some form of organic iron, from these impoverished foods, and silly methods of home cooking, by throwing down the waste pipe the water in which our vegetables are cooked, are responsible for another grave iron loss.

Therefore, if you wish to preserve your youthful vim and vigor to a ripe old age, you must supply the iron deficiency in your blood by using some form of organic iron. Just as you would use salt when your food has not enough salt.

"As I have said a hundred times over, organic iron is the greatest of all strength builders. If people would only take Nuxated Iron when they feel weak or run down, instead of dosing themselves with habit forming drugs, stimulants and alcoholic beverages I am convinced that in this way they could avoid the onset of disease. It is becoming organic in thousands of cases and thereby the lives of thousands might be saved. Now die every year from pneumonia, grippe, kidney, liver, heart trouble and other dangerous maladies. The real and true cause which started their disease was nothing more nor less than a weakened condition brought on by lack of iron in the blood."

"On account of the peculiar nature of woman, and the great strain placed upon her system at certain periods, she requires iron much more than man to help make up for the loss."

"Iron is also absolutely necessary to enable your blood to change food into living tissue. Without it, no matter how much or what you eat, your food merely passes through you without doing you any good. You don't get the strength out of it, and as a consequence you become weak, pale, and sickly looking, just like a plant trying to grow in iron deficiency. If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks, then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while double their strength and endurance and entirely rid themselves of all symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other ailments."

"I have used Nuxated Iron widely in my own practice in most severe aggravated conditions with untiring results. I have induced many a most potent remedy, a trial, all of whom have given me most surprising reports in regard to its great power as a health and strength builder. Many an athlete and prize fighter has won the day simply because he knew the secret of great strength and endurance and filled his blood with iron before he went into the arena; while many another has gone down in ignominious defeat simply by taking iron in the proper form. And this after they had been some cases were doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. But don't take the old forms of reduced iron, iron acetate, or chloride of iron simply to save a few cents. The iron demanded by Mother Nature for the red coloring matter in the blood of her children is, alas! not that kind of iron. You must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated to do you any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless."

NEW PACKARD TWIN-SIX

The Packard Twin-Six cars, of the third series are now being placed in the hands of Packard branches and dealers. The new series is replete with refinements, both as regards body and chassis. The body lines are more beautiful because sides blend into the cowl and bonnet, and with the addition of a sloping windshield give the best appearing Packard, which has yet been placed on the market. While this model is noticeably different from its predecessors, it is distinctively a Packard car with all the familiar Packard identification marks.

Some of the features which make this new model strike the eye immediately as being different from previous Packards are the elimination of the familiar steering column control, which has been moved to the instrument board, and the adoption of the center gear shift in place of the gate on the left side. Other changes, which alter the exterior are the mounting of the side lamps on the windshield instead of the cowl, and the adoption of invisible door hinges with the exception of the lower hinge on the rear door; there is a single tire carrier on the rear.

Some very important changes of an engineering nature have been made on the chassis. The entire electrical system has been re-designed and is now a single-wire system with a grounded return instead of the two-wire system. The speedometer drive has been removed from the front wheel and placed at the rear of the gearbox, and is driven by a special speedometer gear. In addition to these chassis changes, there have been a number of other refinements on the chassis of minor nature.

The fender design has been completely altered, and is of a semi-crown type made of a one-piece steel stamping. Fenders are more rigid and do not rely upon the fender brackets to prevent vibration.

The open body panels are now sheet steel stampings instead of aluminum. The heel panels, seat frames and floor pans in the bodies have also been changed to steel construction. The body doors have also been changed to one unit, made of steel stampings welded together.

All door stops or holder straps are of a new design, entirely concealed when the doors are closed. The electric telephone used in communication between the rear compartment and the driver's compartment has been changed and the dictograph style of instrument is used instead. The transmitter is concealed beneath the trimming in the rear quarter of the body.

The Packard Twin-Six unit power plant is practically identical with that used in the series "two." The 3x5 cylinders are cast in two blocks. The blocks are L-head and have detachable heads with one-piece gaskets.

The crankcase is the same as in the previous model, being of aluminum alloy with four-point supports. The crankcase lower half can be removed independently for the dual purpose of stiffening the case and assisting in the cooling of the oil.

The crankshaft is 2 3/4 in. in diameter, carried on three main bearings. The rod bearings are 2 1/4 in. in diameter, and 3 1/2 in. long. An adjustment is provided on the crank pins and the crankshaft bearings are 2 1/4 in. in diameter with the front length 2-17 in. center 3 in., rear 3 1/2 in. The crankshaft bearing cap is cast aluminum.

The Packard dry-plate clutch with six driving plates is retained, but it has been simplified so that adjustment is easy in means of a thumb screw which is placed so that it can be reached from above.

The frame has been re-designed to give maximum strength, and this has been obtained by using the 7 1/2 in. side members as formerly, and by strengthening the frame from the front and rear ends, so as to eliminate offsets.

The torque arm has been redesigned to give greater strength and to facilitate manufacturing. This has been done by providing a stamping, so that the rear end forging can be more readily riveted in place.

The springs are the same except that they are lower, and the wheels have been made interchangeable by a pressed-in stamping, which eliminates the right and left-hand threading of the front wheel hubs. The tire equipment is standard 35x3 in. and 36x3 in.

No extra charge is made for special painting when it is confined to body panels, door panels, wheels, bonnet, mouldings and cowl. For special colored leathers a charge of $25 is made. Gabriel snubbers and moto-meter are standard equipment.

Everybody is invited to come and visit the Stults Motor Co., and see this New Twin Six.

LANDLADY FELT DEATH GRIP AT HER THROAT

Roomer Tried to Kill Woman
Who Plotted Against Him.

Mrs. Margaret Plock has run a boarding house at 3225 Webster street for most of the time since the Chicago world's fair. She never experienced any trouble with her roomers until Frank Robinson, aged seventy-five, came to her house from Detroit a week ago.

Robinson had the falling of arising in the night and tramping through the neighborhood. The neighbors believe him demented. He arose on Monday night, about the stillly hour, when Mrs. Plock climbed out of bed to see what time the hall clock proclaimed it to be. The aged roomer sprang upon Mrs. Plock like a tiger. He clutched her throat.

"I will kill you," Robinson hissed, the woman told in police court Tuesday morning.

Robinson left dark blue marks on the little woman's neck. He twisted her arms until she is scarcely able to use them as yet. The struggle, which the woman fully believed was a death grapple, moved out to the front walk, where Robinson released his hold and walked away.

The man admitted trying to assault the woman, when he was placed on the witness stand in the city court, Tuesday morning, to answer a disorderly conduct charge. He said he had learned that his landlady had joined with neighbors in a plot to have him kicked in the house.

He is held in jail under $200 bond. A sanity inquest will be held for him before the week end.

Nobody Looked.
Half a dozen foreigners were called to testify in the matter of the broken head of Pete Kavinski, Rumanian. The swabby little fellow had a great patch of court plaster over his left eye. He had been struck by the hand of Elick Galski, a fellow laborer. Police think Galski used a beer bottle.

The men who were clustered about the saloon, near the corner of Wallace and Gay street, and who all speak the rapid fire tongues of southern Europe, were unable to tell the court about the affair. They did not see the blows struck, they all said.

Galski was fined $20 and costs, although he even denied ownership of the knife which police had taken from him.

Not Registered.

John Aukoo, Russian, was shipped to Fort Wayne from Chicago on Monday for railroad construction work. He is twenty-nine years old and not registered for conscription. He knows nothing about the draft law, he said. He was turned over to the custody of federal officers.

Going Back.

Frank McCarthy, 24, was taken from a Wabash freight train early Tuesday morning. He is hurrying back to Steubenville, Ohio, from Chicago, in order to be examined for a soldier in the draft army, he says. He was released by the city court and told to hurry on his way.

"You Loose."

John Mourning, colored, had the weakness of arguing with officers who try to conduct him in the way of peace. He got himself in jail by opposing the officer who told him to "move on" when Mourning was discovered in a drunken state on Lafayette street, Monday evening. On Tuesday morning the negro took exception to the statement of Judge H. W. Kerr.

"When you argue with me you loose," the judge calmly told the colored man. "You are fined $5 and costs."

Other cases of public intoxication were: William Brown, fined $5 and costs; Frank McConnell, held under $25 bond for trial on Wednesday. Jack Van Alton, of Auburn; Rose Mahoney, Curtis Lucas and Jim Brown were released.

AUTO ON FIRE.

The automobile belonging to Raymond Hully was fired by an overheated exhaust pipe as the machine stood at the corner of Third and Sherman streets. Firemen were called to extinguish the blaze. Loss is set at $15.

BOBBY WALTHOUR INJURED.

Paris, Monday, Aug. 20.—The condition of "Bobby" Walthour, the American bicycle racer, whose skull was fractured by a fall from his machine in a race on Sunday, is unchanged.

NO MARVEL FORTHCOMING.

That neither Thomas A. Edison nor any other genius has evolved the marvel which is to drive the German submarines from the seas is pretty well shown by the changed policy of the Washington government, which now announces that the program for building destroyers is to be trebled. All the resources of American shipyards and related industries are to be employed to increase the number of destroyers within the next year and a half, it is given out.

That Mr. Edison may have accomplished something of great value in the campaign against submarines is not improbable. That he has accomplished something, at all events, is indicated by his presence in Washington at the time the secretary of the navy and numerous shipbuilders were in conference. What it is, if there is anything new to add to the sum of naval resources against U-boats, is not known and doubtless will not be known to the public. Minds disposed to busy themselves with speculations upon naval secrets will find an ample field by putting together Mr. Edison's visit to President Wilson and Secretary Daniels and the fact that on the day it was made known the navy department has adopted the greatest program of destroyer construction ever laid down by any sea power. Whatever Mr. Edison has developed that will be of use against submarines must have something to do with destroyers. That conclusion is interesting, plausible and, let it be hoped, comprehends vast possibilities.

Of corollary interest is the announcement that the American government will build no more of the much-touted "chasers" that were hailed some months ago as the answer to the U-boats. These light and speedy craft have not fulfilled expectations. They appear to be useful in patrolling, but of no great effectiveness in making war on submarines. The destroyer is the weapon tested and proved by all accounts. Destroyers conveying the transports that bore the American troops to France kept the German submarines at a distance when danger zones were entered, though it is now well established that the German admiralty had laid careful plans to attack the fleet of vessels carrying the Pershing expedition. Admiral Sims and his flotilla of American destroyers have been on the other side for some three months and it may be accepted as the fact that the navy department is not putting down its vast program of destroyer building without the urgent approval of our capable naval commander on the other side.

Destroyers are known to be the greatest bane of the U-boats. They are strong, sea-going craft of vast speed, are well-protected and carry armament that can be effective against any type of submarine. With enough of them afloat U-boats would have a difficult and unhappy time. That they have worked to good effect is a reasonable conclusion since, it is a fact that following the advent of the Sims flotilla in European waters, the German submarine tolls of allied shipping has declined something better than half.

A STRIKING RECORD.

More striking even than the swiftness of retribution that overtook them is that the self-confessed draft board members found to have been huckstering exemptions constitute so far the only known exception to conscientious duty in some forty-five hundred districts in the United States. That is a remarkable record. It is a record that reflects both the patriotic devotion of the draft boards to their duty and the practically entire absence of any attempt to corrupt those bodies and obtain exemptions by purchase.

There has been rather too much disposition to slack. Many claims to exemption have been made that had nothing to rest on and many registrants called have sought to show their high and holy responsibility to person and society for the care and support of helpless dependents who are able-bodied, well employed or substantially off in the matter of goods and chattels. But there has been no proved instance save in the one New York district of any member of an exemption board putting up immunity for sale to whoso would buy. Again we say that is a remarkable record, both of the integrity of boards and the general respect in which the honor and dignity of the boards throughout the country have been held.

There are thousands of men serving upon these boards. There are some millions of young men who have had to appear before them and more numerous millions constituting family and friends of registrants who were vitally interested in what might be done in the case of this conscript or that. Such a multitude of possibilities for the development of mental temptation and criminal weakness could not come and go without exposing some degree of wrong-doing here and there it might plausibly be thought, yet it is the notable fact that there has been but the one proved case. No doubt there have been a good many instances in which it was indicated to members of exemption boards that certain favors shown to certain young men would be substantially appreciated; but there has been no multiplicity of such attempts at subornations or they would have been denounced in numerous cases by the men sought to be corrupted from performance of their duties.

No great merit can be made by any man of the fact that he isn't a crook, but it speaks tremendously for the character of the exemption officials that out of the many thousands of men who have given voluntary and uncompensated service to the government in doing the work of the draft boards there so far are two who are found to be guilty of wrong-doing in a field that afforded possibilities by the million.

THE STRONG ARM CURE.

If the I. W. W. disturbers, plotters and conspirators will have it that there can be yielding to no other argument or consideration save the strong arm, the government of the United States doubtless can accommodate that view up to any limit that is desired. Certainly there should be no halting by the government at any point on the hither side of complete control. The country is at war and in the midst of stupendous danger. All enemies of this government, at home or abroad, who embrace occasion against it and direct hostilities against its welfare and authority will look pretty much alike. But the enemies at home are more than enemies; they are traitors and their dark treasuries and hostile stratagems can be dealt with in but the one way.

If the I. W. W. persists in its plan to paralyze agriculture and industry in a vast field of the west for no purpose than to hamper and injure the government in war, that organization is itself plainly declaring war on the government and it must be met with the weapons that promise to make the quickest and most effectual end of the conflict. The arrest of one Rowan, an executive officer of the red wreckers of the I. W. W., and more than a score of his lieutenants and aides, may have a salutary effect. It is to be hoped that it will. Even a very small and insignificant civil war or a riot on a large scale will not be convenient just at this time and the readiest ways of forestalling such a development will of course be the best way. If imprisonment of leaders accomplishes the result very well; if wholesale internments are necessary to preserve the peace, protect industry and guard the nation against hostile incitements and treasonable preachments, then let it come to that.

With the nation in arms against the threatnings of a powerful foe on the outside there will be little excuse to temporize with a dangerous foe on the inside. The I. W. W. may be a perplexing and a difficult problem, but it is not in any wise an impossible one. The United States has had to deal heretofore with traitors and treasons when peril brooded over the land and the nation's strength and courage triumphed over disloyalty and danger. The nation more than ever is equal to any internal dangers that may beset. The I. W. W. should be admonished that if it take up the sword against the law, by the sword shall it perish. The question it raises by its conduct ceases to be either industrial or social. The great body of the people of the United States stand together today for the one thing—their country.

Josephus evidently intends to make it clear to the Navy league that the honor of a Californian is not to be mortally aspersed with impunity. Yarn socks for the jacksies will have to go the right road or they may as well turn back to the knitters without waiting to be stopped at the navy department in Washington. And that's taking some stand.

John Barleycorn has not many more days in which to live, but if all reports are true of what red liquor interests have done in preparation for the sorrowful days of his death, his spirits are going to survive a good while among us.

KAISER'S EVIL DESIGNS EXPOSED BY HIS FORMER CHANCELLOR VON BUELOW

BY MILTON BRONNER.

Now that pro-German influences throughout the world are busy flying peace-kites in the interests of Germany and against the cause of the allies, officials of the state department here are paying increasing attention to a book entitled, "Imperial Germany," written by Prince Bernhard von Buelow, who preceded Bethmann-Hollweg as chancellor and who guided the policies of the German empire when it embarked upon its program of having a big navy and having a say in the politics of the whole world.

Von Buelow has largely revised the book since the war started, and as at present issued, it represents his mature views after his country had been at war for two years.

Von Buelow belongs, of course, to the ruling caste in Germany, and knows what they seek to get out of this war. The revised book shows that Germany's rulers have not abated one jot in their worship of militarism. Here is a birdseye view of the Buelow book on these subjects:

Militarism.—"The voice of our national conscience tells us what German militarism really is: the best thing we have achieved in the course of our national development as a state and as a people."

"The German nation can assert before the whole world, that its greatest strength, which has stood the test of the past and the present, is to be found in that which in the hour of direct need and danger saved the life of Germany: German militarism."

"Even if we had not been threatened with war during the last decades, we must realize that there is no such thing as permanent, and must remember Moltke's words: 'Permanent peace is a dream, and not even a beautiful one. But war is an essential element of God's scheme of the world.'"

Compensations for Germany.—"It goes without saying that the main object of the war must be to obtain for Germany not only adequate compensations, but also guarantees which prevent any future war under the same, or similar, unfavorable conditions."

"Germany must realize today that unless quite new and improbable situations are created by this war, the feeling of bitter resentment engendered in France, England and Russia will persist after peace has been made. Germany will in future require protection against hostility and desire for revenge in the west, the east beyond the channel; such protection can only be found in the increase of her own power. More restoration of the state of things before the war would mean for Germany not gain, but loss. Only if our power, political, economic and military, emerges from this war so strengthened that it considerably outweighs the feelings of enmity that have been aroused, shall we be able to assert with a clear conscience that our position in the world has been bettered by the war."

Poland.—"The problem of our policy in the Eastern Marches is this: Shall we permit, shall we, by our inactivity, encourage the eastern domains, that is, Posen, West Prussia, Upper Silesia and parts of East Prussia, to slip once more from the grasp of German nationality or not? To ask this is to answer it. It is the duty and the right of the Germans to maintain our national ownership in the east of Prussia, and if possible, to increase it."

Russia.—"Of course we cannot desire that Russia should regain her strength. Whether the loss of parts of Poland would weaken Russia is questionable."

France.—"It always seemed to me a weakness to entertain the hope of a real and sincere reconciliation with France so long as we had no intention of giving up Alsace-Lorraine. And, of course, there was not and is not any such intention in Germany."

"Perhaps in time France will grow reconciled, especially if we succeed in further improving our strategic position with regard to France, a position which at present is still unfavorable."

Belgium and England.—"The English ministers must not be surprised if, in consideration of our unfavorable coastal circumstances, we demand serious and solid guarantees to ensure our safety and independence with regard to England."

If many patriots hope that we shall retain the position that we have won at the cost of so much bloodshed in Belgium, and more especially on the Belgian shores of the North sea, the wish may be ascribed to the obvious consideration that this position alone can secure for us practical and permanent protection from new attacks and the desire for revenge on the part of our enemies."

PRESIDENT WILSON IS LIKELY TO NAME THE WORLD'S PEACE TERMS

BY L. HARPER LEECH.

President Wilson, as head of the greatest belligerent, will name the peace terms.

It was the president's ambition to settle the war as a mediator. Hohenzollern frightfulness cheated him of that, but the fates have decreed he shall play the role anyhow.

Pope benedict has probably opened the way for the president to start the drive which will end in peace—although it may be months or years away.

The pope's proposal turns out to be a document similar to the president's "peace without victory speech."

Denounced at first as pro-German, it will eventually be found fatal to Berlin's aspirations.

Whether the pope's plea was conceived by him or by some other subtle brain in the vatican or at Vienna—both schools of the profoundest diplomacy—it is the most dangerous blow aimed at Prussianism since the war began.

The pope's plea is related to the reichstag revolt engineered by the South-German Catholic party against the Prussian war aims, which brought on the recent abortive political crisis at Berlin.

The pope's move is linked with the peace desires of Kaiser Karl of Austria. It widens the split between north and south Germany.

The pope's letter invites President Wilson to widen this split by a suitable reply. Master of diplomacy and language, Wilson, of course, will seize the opportunity. He will make counter proposals aimed at Prussia, not Germany.

If Prussia answers unfavorably the whole Berlin peace bluff will be exposed and South Germany and Austria will be shown they are fighting for Prussian aggrandizement alone.

On the other hand, if Russia agrees to Wilson's proposals, the Kaiser will have lost the war and German militarism will be on its death bed.

The allies realize Wilson has the key, and that they must yield him leadership and sacrifice territorial or commercial ambitions.

Lloyd George has said the only issue is the victory of democracy—thereby waiving the whole question of return of the German colonies, Mesopotamia or indemnity.

This is exactly Wilson's position. America is interested in questions of territory and indemnity—only as these things may be means of destroying German autocracy.

If that can be accomplished without "annexation or indemnity" or by any other formula, the president is willing to do it that way.

Consequently it is not difficult to forecast the president's reply to the pope. It will be entirely favorable with a big IF planted exactly where the pope expected it, and prepared a place for it.

In the language of the street, the president's reply will pass the buck to Prussia—the alternative of peace or continued war.

If she elects war she will also face dissension in South Germany and Austria and trouble at home.

The president will emphasize the point in the pope's letter above all things repugnant to Prussia—that is the proposal for disarmament. That the Berlin military gang will resist to the last.

President Wilson will say that it is most important, and that if Prussia will give sufficient guaranty or pledge of good faith peace negotiations can begin on the understanding that disarmament is agreed to.

That pledge will be the evacuation of Belgium.

FROM THE SENTINEL PAGES 25 YEARS AGO

Contractor George Young will at once commence the erection of ten houses for R. L. Romy in Crescent addition, out in the southeastern part of the city.

Councilman Michael says that the council committee will report the valuation of real and personal property in this city at $19,865,954. This is an increase of $463,025 over last year.

Tomorrow night at 8 o'clock will occur the wedding of O. V. Heaton to Miss Harriett Russell, of Coldwater, Mich. A great many invitations have been sent out in this city and it will be a very large wedding. Dr. Heaton and family and other relatives will leave to be given after the wedding, after which Mr. and Mrs. Heaton will take a two weeks' trip before they return to this city.

Peter Schweiger, an eighteen-year-old boy, who lives with his parents north of the Nickel Plate tracks in the east end, attempted to board a west-bound freight train yesterday afternoon to ride up town. The train was moving along at a rapid rate and the young man missed his hold on the car and fell to the ground. The wheels passed over his left hand, mangleing that member so badly that Dr. Duemling found amputation necessary. The hand was taken off at the wrist.

An exciting and nearly fatal runaway occurred three miles east of the city at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The victim was Mrs. Lloyd, wife of the vinegar dealer. While descending a hill in her buggy some part of the harness became detached and the horse shied, running the wheels of the vehicle off a culvert and upsetting it. Mrs. Lloyd's dress caught on the buggy-step and she was dragged over the rough road for a distance of a quarter of a mile, then the horse became detached from the vehicle and the lady was released from her perilous position. Although seriously injured she will recover.

YOUTH LACKS PEPPER, SAYS AGED PATRIOT

Ninety Year Old Woman Has One of Best Gardens in City.

Half hid among the tasseled corn and canopied by overhanging bows of many plum trees is the dwelling, which is little more than a shell and which houses one of Fort Wayne's best patriots. The sole occupant of the weather beaten cottage, which is minus several of its small window panes, is Sophia Tilton, aged ninety, widow of Josiah Tilton. The house is located far out on Spring street in the quiet valley which yet marks the end of the city's activities.

Surrounding the unpainted house on three sides is one of the heartiest gardens in the region of Fort Wayne. Mrs. Tilton, a wife of a gray haired woman, prepared the soil, planted the seed and has cared for the truck patch herself.

She has had no aid in her work since early June.

"It would be quite an example to the younger generation," said the reporter who attempted to convince the aged patriot that she should allow a picture of herself and her garden to be taken. She refused to pose for a picture.

"The young folks now days lack ambition," said the wrinkled little woman as she stood in the half opened door. She refused to accept any plaudits for the towering stalk of corn, or for the row upon row of flourishing beans or for the mild eyed astors which surround the house and soften its rough exterior.

"A person ought to be doing something all the time," explained the modest patriot.

When she refused to take credit for the well-trimmed plum trees, the fruit of which was fairly ripening in clusters in the summer sun and for the new made turnip patch, the reporter turned away.

Mrs. Tilton went back to her knitting, which she had dropped at the visitor's knock, and resumed her rocking and stitching as the ladies did in the "days of the sweet long ago."

News of Our Neighbors

HON. H. A. BARNHART HAS A HEAVY LOSS

Large Residence on Indiana Congressman's Farm is Burned to Ground.

Rochester, Ind., Aug. 21.—A vain attempt was made here today to find Congressman H. A. Barnhart, of this city, now on the way home by motor with his son, Lieutenant Hugh Barnhart, from Washington, D. C. The house of the congressman's farm, a fourteen-room structure, was burned early Sunday, causing a loss of more than $4,000, which is about half covered by insurance.

The cause of the fire is a mystery. Abner McKay, the tenant, and his family, barely had time to escape when the fire was discovered, and saved only a few belongings. By strenuous work neighbors saved the nearby barn and other buildings, all full of crops.

ECKELS-BRONSON REUNION.

Kendallville, Ind., Aug. 21.—The annual reunion of the Eckels-Bronson families was held Sunday at the fair grounds in this city, when 115 members of the two families in this state and from Ohio assembled to participate in the annual affair. At noon the usual custom was followed and a picnic dinner was served. The officers elected followed: President, Prof. H. H. Whetzel, of Cornell university; vice president, Louis S. McInture, of Fort Wayne; secretary and treasurer, Miss Elizabeth Eckels, of Kendallville; historian, Miss Lela Eckels, of near this city. The next reunion will be held in August, 1918, at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McInture, four miles east of this city.

CROWD JEERS YELLOW FLAG.

Kendallville, Ind., Aug. 21.—Billy Mars, who calls himself the "human fly," refused to give a demonstration of his skill at Albion. Several thousand people assembled at the county seat to witness the feat and hear the band concert by the Kendallville City band. Several enthusiastic speeches for the boys' working reserve were made by citizens of Albion. Mars appeared on the street in his white uniform, ready for the climb, but when the time came, it was announced that the wonder had refused to climb. He was given a very unceremonious greeting and shouts of "The fake is yellow!" were heard throughout the crowd.

ANOTHER CALL FOR MEN.

Albion, Ind., Aug. 21.—According to T. A. Redmond, clerk of the conscription board, Noble county's quota of 43 men for the national army will be secured after examining 206 men. However, to play safe and save additional men ready for another call in the event men certified to the district board are exempted, the board has mailed notices to 80 more men to appear for examination next Thursday. The first fifty will appear at 8 a. m. at Albion and the remaining thirty at 1 p. m.

BLUFFTON MAN WELL BERTHERED.

Bluffton, Ind., Aug. 21.—Manson W. Reiff, of this city, has been appointed assistant to Dr. Carl G. Winter, grand worthy president of the Eagles' lodge, and within the next few weeks he and Mrs. Reiff will move to Indianapolis, where his headquarters will be located. The position is an excellent one and Mr. Reiff will be in touch with the Eagles' lodges all over the United States. During the past year he has been state secretary of the order and also has been employed as an auditor for the grand lodge.

MUCH RED LIQUOR WASTED.

Hartford City, Ind., Aug. 21.—Liquor valued at $1,000 of a red wine, L. G. Williams home several months ago, and which had been stored in the court house, has been destroyed on orders of Mayor Secret. It was taken to the grand jury room and emptied into the sink, whence it found its way into the sewers and into Little Lick creek. An attempt was made one night recently, by thirsty thieves to break into the court house, a window in the sheriff's office being broken.

DIED SUDDENLY.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 21.—Isaac Spangle, 31 years of age, residing about two miles west of Silver Lake, died at the camp grounds at Yellow Creek lake. While sitting at the table at the hotel he was suddenly stricken, and died in a few moments. The deceased leaves a son and two daughters.

Prizes in the game were won by Misses Esther Frederick, and Louise Kramer. A delicious luncheon was served at a late hour by Mrs. J. Hueber, assisted by Mrs. Fred Hueber. The dining room was decorated in pink and white and tiny nut cups of nuts were favors. Music was furnished by Miss Esther Frederick. Miss Louise Kramer danced a while. Automobiles were supplied to take the guests to their homes. Those who enjoyed the good time were Misses Louise Kramer, Adella Kramer, Etta Walte, Rosella Penker, Esther Linnemeyer, Lydia Schmidt, Loretta Rohrbach, Irene Miller, Acella Volrol, Acella Cordes, Esther Frederick, Frieda and Helen Stalf, Marie Hueber, Viola Hueber and Miss Emma Colthorpe, an out of town visitor at the Hueber home.

Baado-Buechler.

The wedding of Mr. Lester F. Baado, lieutenant in the U. S. A., to Miss Elsie Buechler, of Decatur, Ill., on Sunday, August 19. Only the immediate relatives were present as Rev. Lahrman, of the Lutheran church, performed the ceremony. At 2 o'clock, Miss Pauline Stern and the bride's brother, Mr. Buechler, were the bridesmaid and groomsmen. The bride was married in her traveling suit of dark blue cloth with hat and shoes of gray, and a corsage of roses. During the day the bride and groom left on a wedding trip to Chicago and other points. On Thursday Lieutenant Baado and his bride are expected here to be guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Baado, until next Tuesday, when Lieutenant Baado leaves to report at Fort Taylor, Louisville, Ky. Mrs. Baado will remain here until more definite plans for the regiment are known. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Baado returned from Decatur, on Monday.

A Country Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Findley chaperoned a bus party of Fort Wayne friends on Saturday evening to the Thompson home, southwest of Ellettsburg, in honor of Miss Verna Thompson, who is at home as a visitor. The yard was decorated and lighted with Japanese lanterns and flags. Outdoor games were the merry entertainment. A luncheon was served in the house afterwards by Miss Thompson, Miss Marie Carpenter and Miss Salome Mack. The company included Misses Opal Walker, Helen Hatch, Clara Minner, Helen Eastman, Edna Bunsen, E. H. E. Bunsen, Edna Miller, Marie Carpenter, Verna Thompson, Mrs. Findley, and Bob Neilman, Emil Schelper, Harry Neeb, John Kundred, Bill Jump, Art Schelper, Elsa Thompson, Charles Findley and Harry Heiny, of Portland.

When Child Begins to Mend Task is Hard

A child when very ill is usually so good that the mother and nurse have little to meet in the amusement problem, but when the days of convalescence come they are often at their wits' end to know how to enforce the quiet that is so necessary when the patient feels like getting up and tearing the earth to pieces.

This is a time when friends can help the mother.

One good friend who called herself "The Little Old Woman Who Lived Under the Hill" sent something every day to a convalescent child so it would arrive in the morning mail. It might be only a picture postcard with a message of good cheer or any wee trinket, favor or small book, costing not over 5 or 10 cents, but it made the postman's visit a delight.

One may purchase wonder bells and surprise boxes or make them at home. Take odds and ends of yarn for the ball. At intervals wind in small packages holding articles like beauty pins, strings of beads, tiny penknives, dainty handkerchiefs, a hair ribbon, a ring, any of the fascinating diminutive toys, such as figures of men, women, animals, wee dishes, teakettle, chafing dish, etc. In fact, everything imaginable may be found in the toy and favor department for these mysterious balls. Then regulate the unwinding to say one object an hour, starting each time the clock strikes. The surprise box is made like a "Jack Horner" pie, with a ribbon to be pulled once a day or at whatever intervals seem best.

The main thing is to keep the child's mind filled with happy anticipations, for it is an acknowledged fact that the

This Sport Skirt is Meant for Use

(By BETTY BROWN.)

New York—This sport skirt is meant for what its name implies—real sport use. It is exceedingly practical. It does not sacrifice any of the attractive lines of the sport skirt which are meant chiefly for show, but it is of serviceable cloth, with pockets, and reinforced about the belt to preserve its fit.

mind has a great influence over the child's recovery. Fretting and worrying about getting up is the hardest thing to overcome when the evil consequences are not realized.

Make a bag of cretonne with drawstrings and hang at the top of the bed. In it place a supply of handkerchiefs, a pencil, a pad of paper and whatever treasures desired so they will be close at hand. Provide a sick bed table that will raise and lower to any desired height and swing into any position, also a tray with legs that fit over the bed standing steadily. This takes all weight off the little patient. One more thing makes for comfort and that is a hospital frame for the pillows, which may be raised and lowered. When the child sits up such games as "jacks" and "ball" and animals, puzzle pictures, all sorts of paper dolls, paper villages, etc., may be used.

When meals are served be sure to have surprises in way of china and a vase holding just a bud to make the tray attractive.

It takes the ingenuity and strategy of a general to engineer a sick child safely through a tedious convalescence, but it can be done by striving to give an air of mystery to the otherwise commonplace days.

Pectin in Fruit Juice is What Makes It Jelly

(The most noted and most quoted work on jelly making is a University of Illinois bulletin by Miss N. E. Goldthwaite. Both experienced housewives and beginners will appreciate the following excerpts from these authoritative pages.)

By N. E. GOLDTHWAITE.
Fruit juice consists largely of water in which are dissolved small amounts of flavoring materials, sugar, vegetable acids and a substance called pectin. The pectin is the essential jelly making substance. It is impossible to make jelly from a juice lacking pectin.

Presence of pectin can readily be ascertained by adding to a given volume of the hot cooked juice an equal amount of grain alcohol (90 to 95 per cent), mixing thoroughly and cooling; if pectin is present a gelatinous mass will appear in the liquid.

Curiously enough, pectin frequently is not found in the juices of raw fruits. Yet the juices extracted by cooking are full of the substance. Thus the best and most economical method of extracting juices from fruits is indicated: very juicy fruit, as currants, raspberries and the like is being used, place the clean fruit in an enameled preserving kettle, and just enough water to prevent burning, cover, cook slowly stirring occasionally with a wood or silver spoon.

When the simmering point is reached, crush the fruit further with a well-soaked wooden masher, then continue heating until the whole mass is cooked through.

Transfer the hot mass to a sufficiently large piece of cheesecloth wrung out of hot water and let the juice drain into an earthenware receptacle. When fairly well drained out, do not squeeze the pulp for a second quality of jelly, but untie the cheesecloth, return pulp to the kettle, cover with water, stir, boil and drain again. Some fruits will show pectin even up to the fifth extraction, but usually a third extraction sufficiently exhausts the pectin.

To extract the juice from hard fruits, apple, quince and the like, wash the fruit, discard any unsound parts, cut into small sections (skins and seeds included) cover with water and proceed as in the case of very juicy fruits.

Assuming the juice has been obtained from a naturally good jelly making fruit, success or failure depends upon the proportion of sugar used. For most juices rich in pectin and fairly acidic, for the first extraction the correct proportion of sugar to juice by volume usually varies from three-fourths part to one part, or one to one. Currants and grapes usually demand one part sugar to one of juice, while three-fourths to one is likely to be correct for juices from fruits to which much water must be added, such as sour apples.

Better err on the side of too little rather than too much sugar if jelly that "will stand alone" is desired.
The total time required for the jelly making process decreases as the proportion of sugar is increased. In currant juice, eight to ten minutes is sufficient for making jelly from the first extraction, while raspberries, apples and the like may demand 20 to 30 minutes.

Jelly should be made as quietly as possible. No simmering for hours should be allowed. The object of adding the sugar hot (heated through) is that the total cooking process may not be prolonged by partial cooling. The time required for boiling after the sugar is added varies. Our jelly test is that point at which the boiling mass "jells," sheets off, or breaks off, as a portion of it is allowed to drop from the stirring spoon. When the jelly is just right to be taken off the fire, no time should be lost in removing it.

TEA WAGON SAVES MANY STEPS FOR HOUSEWIVES

A tea wagon for the young housewife who does her own work is indispensable. Upon the wagon, she can place almost everything for one course which is to be taken from the kitchen into the dining room and which otherwise would necessitate four or five trips.

By the aid of the tea wagon all the dishes can be removed from the table at once. After washing the dishes the tea wagon can be used to hold the silver and glassware and napkins and plates and the various things with which you set the table.

Thus the table can be kept bare between meals and just the centerpiece and fern or the basket of fruit, which makes an attractive dining room. When it is time to get luncheon or dinner it won't take more than a few minutes to roll out the cart and take the things off and set the table.

If the dining room is situated near the living room or where it will be

HAT SPRINGS LEAK.
Perry, Vt.—Mrs. Richard Jenkins is under a doctor's care as the result of an accident with a patent hat her husband invented. The hat contained a cooling chamber of water mixed with a volatile gas. The chamber broke and the mixture, acting upon Mrs. Jenkins' face powder, produced a poisonous irritant which threatens her sight. Jenkins says the hat is all right, but that women who wear powder take their own chances.

Oscoda, Mich.—Bill Biggerstaff's pet fox dog is back. The last Bill saw of the dog was in December when he started a fox. He never was known to return without the fox before, sometimes being out as long as a week. But this time he came back in a baggage car orate with a note from a man near Grand Marais, 200 miles away, who found the dog there starving two weeks ago. Bill will send the dog out this winter after the same fox.

STEAL HARBOR BUOY.
Denton, Me.—The schooner Pyramid nearly went on the rocks here this week because of the removal of the west harbor buoy. The buoy was an empty whisky barrel. The only way the life-saving crew can explain its theft is that it probably sprang a leak and became partly filled with water, causing some fishermen to believe it still contained whisky. He will be taught a lesson by the fact that he had his trouble for nothing.

MME. SCHUMANN-HEINK SENDS YOUNGER SONS TO FIGHT ELDEST BROTHER, IN THE KAISER'S NAVY

Great Prima Donna Makes War's Supreme Sacrifice, But Says Sons in Both Nations Must Do Their Duty to the Country That Claims Their Allegiance.

By HOWARD MANN. (Staff Special.)

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 21.—Hundreds of thousands of American mothers are giving up their sons to help "keep the world safe for democracy," but few of them are facing the heart-breaking experience of Mme. Schumann-Heink, who is sending one of her sons to the American navy where he may have to fight against his brother in the German navy.

Two other sons and her son-in-law are in the draft age, and may be called to bear arms against their brother and other near relatives in the German and Austrian armies. The youngest son is not eligible to draft.

The daughter of an Austrian officer, with the traditions of generations of Teutonic militarists behind her, Mme. Schumann-Heink can look philosophically on the system which calls her sons to war; but the idea of sending one son to fight against the other is crushing her mother's heart.

"What do I think about having my sons fighting against each other—sometimes I dare not think of it, it is too terrible," she told me today. "If this were a war of defense, I would send them cheerfully, but to send them across the sea into the trenches, in boats that may never reach their destination—it is a crime."

"My oldest son, August, now a man in middle age, is in the German navy. When the United States declared war is heard was torn for love of this country, but what was he to do? His duty was with the German navy, and his love for me and for his brothers had to take second place."

"My second son, Henry, is about to enter our navy. My son-in-law is in an aviation training camp. Their duty is here, and I would not have them shrink—but why cannot we leave Europe to settle its own quarrels?"

"Perhaps I should not speak this way—but I am a woman and a mother, and I cannot help feeling this way about sending my boys to the front, perhaps to kill each other."

Mme. Schumann-Heink, whose sons may fight each other when American and German forces are actively engaged. Below, the oldest son, August, in the German navy, at right; top to bottom, Walter, Henry, enlisted in the United States navy, Ferdinand and George, in the uniform of a Calver cadet.

"It is all a great tragedy, but I suppose it is human nature for everyone to think his tragedy is the deepest. 'It is the duty for August to fight for Germany. It is the duty for me to fight for the United States. None of them will fail. 'Duty comes first—I learned that from my soldier father.' But it is a terrible thing."

RUSSELL SAYS RUSSIA'S GREATEST PROBLEM IS TO OVERCOME WRECKAGE LEFT BY OLD REGIME

Worst Government on Earth
Had Mismanaged Matters
So Fearfully That Trans-
Siberian Railroad, for Instance, Could Do Only
One-Third of Its Normal
Work.

BY CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL
(Copyright, 1917, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

The Russians are fighting and struggling on toward an advanced and stable form of democratic government, but they still have the legs of the Old Man of the Sea around their necks. The remains of the seven times accursed old system still hamper them. They carried the czar, but they couldn't can all of the vast swarm of evils that the czar style of government had heaped down upon them. Everything in the old autocratic government of Russia that wasn't done correctly was done stupidly and everything that wasn't stolen was hashed.

The government, good or bad, of a nation of 180,000,000 people stretched over a continent 6,000 miles wide, means a colossal machine—that is to say, offices and men at work in them. The revolution ousted the chief engineers of the Russian machine, but it couldn't possibly oust all the millions of cogs, wheels and pistons. Also, it could not possibly change at once the methods and plans by which these did, or were supposed to do, their work.

Worst Government on Earth. But it began to strip the cover from these methods and plans and revealed in detail what has been beyond doubt the very worst government ever known on this earth. Everything about it was done badly except the police job. When it came to watching, overawing and terrorizing people, to spying, eavesdropping and mudslinging for pretexts to send men to jail or Siberia, there was efficiency to burn.

Czarism was a world-beater at all that. But at carrying on the huge daily business of reasonable government it was dull, slow, lumbering, thumb-headed and half-witted. Also most monstrously wasteful and extravagant.

In the army, men in responsible positions stole the money appropriated for rifles and sent troops up to the firing line armed with nothing but sticks. They stole the money appropriated for artillery and left whole armies to be slaughtered by foes that had up-to-date equipment.

They grafted on every contrivance. They stole stores, supplies, boots and buttons. Their motto was, Anything that isn't Spiked Down and then Fetch the Crowbar to pry the Rest Loose.

They allowed traitors to bury in the earth the great guns that England sent to Russia's aid and German spies to overrun and poison every part of the service.

In the bureau large forces of men did little work and botched that little. Transportation System Broken Down. Take, as one example of many triumphs of mismanagement, the matter of transportation.

About one-half of the maddening problems that the provisional government steadfastly faces come from a broken down transportation system. Broken down by the sheer incompetence of the czar's government.

When democracy came in it found the Trans-Siberian the main artery of the Russian railroad system, doing only one-third of its normal work because of the thick-headed or dishonest work of the old regime.

Equipment had not been maintained. The road was there, but it was woefully shabby of cars and locomotives, and the old methods of operation lost one-half of the value of what rolling stock there was.

One direct result of all this was that with other parts of Russia ran with food supplies Petrograd and Moscow were short of food. Another was that munitions and supplies absolutely required for military operations were hung up at the ports or the factories because there were no cars to load them in and no locomotives to haul them.

Surely the curse of God is upon autocracy and all its works! Surely it is the blight and plague of mankind, for surely nothing else leaves in its track a train of evils so great and terrible. The democratic government of Russia came in to find itself all but overwhelmed with the situation the like of which had never confronted any other government in the world.

New Regime Meets Problems Skillfully. It had to fight a great and terrible war and at the same time it had to operate for the daily life of the nation a machine as big as that it threatened every minute to fall in.

These appalling conditions it is meeting with courage and skill. Slowly, steadily, it is getting the better of them.

And here I point out one of the most interesting phases of the Russian story. You see men that have had very little experience in public affairs or perhaps none at all. Of a sudden this almost inconceivable job thrust upon them, of changing over this enormous machine and they tackle it and get away with it, learning how as they go along!

Because they have an inspiration of an ideal, they have a vision, they see something to work for a million miles beyond and above the pay envelope or a place at a murderous monarch's table. They see the whole world lighted up for a new democracy if they can make democracy go in Russia and they work without sleep and defy disease or weakness to make that vision real.

Every day things go better in Russia. These men are substituting order for sloppiness and efficiency for a mad riot of blundering.

But they can't do it all at once. They can't wave a magic wand and exchange a punk old machine for a bright new one.

It is easy enough for people in other lands to ask why the Russians don't do this thing or don't do that.

Give them a chance and they will do whatever can be done by human agencies and do it well, because they are carried along to achievement by the greatest power in the world, which is the faith and feeling of democracy.

League Leaders Win and Make Season's Last Appearance

Chiefs Get More Hits But Not at the Right Time.

In a game featured by free hitting on both sides, Fort Wayne lost the last of the series and the last game on the local lot with Grand Rapids Monday, 4 to 2. Fort Wayne had the better of the hitting contest, getting ten hits off Meltzer, while the best that the Michiganans could do was to get nine off Kowalski. Grand Rapids' hits, however, came when hits meant runs.

It was the last chance that local ball fans had to see the winners of the 1917 Central league contest in action—that is the winners—unless they get into a train wreck or some calamity overtakes them.

Edgington started the scoring Monday when he landed on one of Kowalski's offerings in the second inning for a circuit smash which landed over in Clinton street. There was no one on ahead of him and the next three batters were disposed of in rapid order. The visitors scored again in the fifth. Jantzen flew out to Hoffman. Lee Tannehill, the old White Sox star and for many years in the majors, connected with one of Kowalski's shots for a clean single. Meltzer sacrificed, advancing Tannehill, who scored on Mitchell's two-bagger. Carey ended the scoring by flying out to Seigfried.

The Wolverines were due, to get another run across before the Chiefs could get started in the scoring line. In the sixth Meltzer singled and took second. He went to third on Edgington's out and counted when Alcock flew out to deep center, beating the throw in. The Chiefs got two runs in the seventh and added some interest to the affair. Smith batted one out Meltzer and got on. Seigfried doubled after Hoffman flew out to Mathes. Kelly's drive over short brought both men in. Kelly was out trying to steal second. Glockson was out, short to first.

The final-run of the game was made in the ninth. Alcock singled. Miller beat out a bunt. Jantzen got a scratch hit, filling the bags. Alcock scored on a play trying to catch the runner off second.

Second baseman Carey was seriously injured in sliding into home plate in the eighth inning. His ankle turned, causing an injury which it is likely will keep him out of the Grand Rapids lineup for the rest of the season. This will undoubtedly weaken the club and lessen materially the chances of the Michigan club to finish the season in as fast a pace as they have been going, although it does not appear that they can lose in the race for the flag.

Giant Outfielder Considered a Star

George Burns, of the Giants, considered to be the best left fielder in the game.

ELIONSKY, "THE MAN WHO CAN'T BE DROWNED," SWIMS FIVE MILES WHILE BOUND TO A CHAIR

JACKSON PULLS TY COBB STUNT MAKING SINGLE OUT OF DOUBLE

Transfers from one club to another sometimes does a player a world of good. Changes in environment making playing conditions more pleasant probably have a great deal to do with this. Take Joe Jackson for instance. Jackson has always been a great natural fielder, but until the last year has never been able to get all out of his fielding he should. A recent game at Cleveland shows how Jackson has improved in this respect. Chapman, a fast base runner, was on second and Roth on first. Elmer Smith was at bat. Smith drove a hit into right field which under ordinary conditions would have been a double and should have scored both base runners. But Jackson pulled a regular Ty Cobb stunt, outguessing the base runners. He backed into the fence and waited for the ball. Chapman and Roth figured it would be an out and held their bases, waiting to advance after the catch. The ball struck the wall at least ten feet above Jackson's head, and Jackson recovered and threw to the plate, heading off the run from second. It was a plain case of pinch judgment, but it is a safe bet that Jackson would never have pulled the trick two years ago.

UPSETS IN FIRST ROUNDS OF PLAY

Veteran Furnishes Surprise by Winning in Two Sessions. Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 21.—Surprising upsets in the first two rounds of play in the national patriotic singles tournament added interest when the tourney continued today on the courts of the West Side club. CHICAGO OVERTURE BIG TRAP EVENT

Chicago, Aug. 21.—Chief events on the program of the grand American handicap tournament today were the Chicago overture, open to amateurs only at 100 targets from the sixteen yard line; the national championship in doubles; and the national amateur championship at single targets. In the South Shore introductory event yesterday, Frank Troeh, of Vancouver, Wash., made a new record when he broke 199 targets out of a possible 200, shooting from the sixteen yard line. Troeh missed his ninety-second target and then finished with a straight run of 108. His nearest competitor was J. E. Pettit, of Arkansas, with 198.

Bad Weather Threatens Start of State Tennis Tournament

May Interfere With Play in First Round Today.

MORNING SCHEDULE. H. Stephens vs. Van A. Barnett, court 1. William Plogsterth vs. Reginald Barnard, court 2. (The winners will play each other on court 1 at 2 o'clock.) L. Wooding and Theodore Schroeder vs. R. C. Bastien vs. Onslow Orr, court 3 at 2 o'clock. With lowering skies and the atmospheric pressure indicating rain, the chances for the play in the first round of the Indiana State Patriotic Tennis tournament at the Fort Wayne Country club Tuesday, were not particularly encouraging. Dr. Charles D. Humes, of Indianapolis, who is widely known as an expert on the net game, both as a player and referee, was scheduled to officiate in all matches played in the state tournament. No prizes, it is announced, will be given out this year by the winners in either singles or doubles inasmuch as the play is for the benefit of the Red Cross. Following the lead of the United States National Lawn Tennis association no cups will be given out but the winners will be generally recognized as the state champion or champions. The entry fees, which have been set at $1.50 for the singles and $2.00 for the doubles, will in the aggregate make a neat sum to turn over to the Red Cross, it is thought. The official entry list: Lester Ortleb, James Harris, George Bahle, William C. O'Rourke, L. Wooding, Theodore Schroeder, C. S. Moll, Theodore Fischer, Van A. Barnett, L. S. Baker, H. Stephens, Ewing Bond, Earl Wooding, George Gawehn, Eric Gawehn, J. Carver, Onslow Orr, William Plogsterth, William Berghoe and John Berghoff, of Fort Wayne. George Hogg, Dr. Charles D. Humes, James McKay, Fred Appel, Miss Helen Beck and R. C. Bastien, of Indianapolis. R. L. VanArsdale, H. S. Knox, J. A. Elmsley, J. A. Farley, J. A. Lasley and Heron J. Garver, of Chicago. D. O. Crites, J. Weaver and Engeler, of Huntington. Clair Setz, Russell Bixel and John Bixel, of Bluffton, Ohio. Jack Southard, of Cleveland. Reginald Barnard and Raymond Kunkel, of Cincinnati. As paired last night for the doubles, the men were as follows: J. and R. Bixel; Setz and Parker; Bailhe and O'Rourke; Crites and Baker; Lasley and Knox; VanArsdale and Elmsley; Stephens and Fisher; Hite and Mangold; Barnard and Kunkle; Weaver and Engeler.

It is stated that the entries of live stock and agricultural products will be extremely large. More New Fall Suits and Dresses

For Women and Misses

Direct from the foremost makers of New York—portraying the very latest, authentic style ideas which are to be favored for Fall. Many of the Dresses are clever adaptations from the newest Parisian modes, but the Suits demonstrate in a remarkable degree the resourcefulness and genius of American designers when put to the test.

In the creation of Suit styles, America has been independent and self-supporting for some time, for the reason that a suit is a "fitting" garment and French Suits never could fit American women.

The American Suit creator who first realized this truth and began to advocate American fashions for American women has produced a remarkable collection of Fall models which we are showing under the name of

BUSINESS MAN
GREATLY BENEFITED

E. J. WEHRMEYER, PROMINENT WAYNE STREET JEWELER, MAKES STATEMENT.

GIVES CREDIT TO IRONATED HERBS WITH PEPSIN.

No new article of the times has created such profound interest especially in the larger cities, as has the introduction of Ironated Herbs with Pepsin (in liquid form). People in all walks of life have been attracted to it; the statesman, the professional man, the mechanic, financier, lawyer, preacher, bookkeeper, farmer, brakeman, society woman, waiter—they all have tested it and permitted the use of their names in telling of it.

Every day local people are coming forward with similar statements, telling of the great benefits they have derived from the use of Ironated Herbs. E. J. Wehrmeyer, whose place of business and residence are at 111 West Wayne street, was added to the ever increasing stream of voluntary recommendations.

Mr. Wehrmeyer conducts a jewelry store on Wayne street and is regarded as an authority on diamonds and jewelry in general.

His progressive business methods have made friends of his customers for him, and it is extremely gratifying to receive the signed endorsement of such men as Mr. Wehrmeyer.

"I saw this Ironated Herbs medicine advertised and heard of the good it was doing for people in a run-down condition, so I bought a bottle and began taking it. I feel a whole lot better now. My appetite has increased and my food tastes natural again. I suffered with gas, constipation, after eating. Am happy to say after taking Ironated Herbs it has entirely disappeared. I sleep better and have new strength and energy. My improvement has been so marked that friends ask what I have been taking. I am a great believer in iron for the nerves and blood, and find this organic iron in liquid form acts quicker than any I have ever taken. My digestion is better and I do not feel uncomfortable after eating like I used to. Ironated Herbs, in my opinion, is a great medicine, and I think it will do as much for others in my condition as it has done for me."

Concentrated pepsin in Ironated Herbs, the king of digestive agents, working in harmony with the natural gastric juices of the stomach, causes my food to be digested properly with the result that muscular development is rapidly acquired.

Organic iron is the making of thick red blood and also gives strength to the nerves. Pepsin in concentrated form, dissolves, digests and assimilates the food and the potent herbal extracts destroy and eliminate poisons from the system.

Our demonstrator will gladly explain to you its merits and supply you with a bottle at Meyer Bros' drug store, 902 Calhoun street, Fort Wayne. It is also sold in all Meyer Bros' other Fort Wayne stores; at Bluffton by Davenport & Ehley; Huntington, A. C. Beckstein; Roanoke, Hackett & Sons; New Haven, H. E. BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA CAN HELP WIN WAR BY FOLLOWING EXAMPLES OF BRITISH COMRADES

Young Johnny Bull is Setting Fast Pace for His Young American Cousin in Khaki and Master Scout of Boes War Experience, the Hero of Mafeking, Tells How It Is.

BY KENNETH W. PAYNE.
(Staff Correspondence.)
London, England, Aug. 21.—Boys here's a special dispatch from the world's war center meant just for you—for every Fort Wayne youngster who wants to help Uncle Sam win the war.

Lieut.-Gen. Sir Eaden-Powell, founder and chief of nearly 300,000 boy scouts in the British empire, has given me this message for you.

To begin with, this war is really your war. Your fathers and uncles and big brothers are coming here to fight and die for your sakes. They want you, when you grow up, to be able to live in a world which is happy and safe. They don't want you or your children ever again to have to go into the trenches and be killed.

And they know the world will never be safe for you until the kaiser's army is beaten. Because they are fighting for you, you will want to help them beat that army.

Since the war broke out the boys of Great Britain have been helping. Sir Robert Baden-Powell showed them how.

"There is hardly anything the boy scouts haven't done."

"The day war broke out we had more than a thousand scouts mobilized for maneuvers. And from mere play, they went into the coast patrol in real earnest. The government was glad to get them and their services were so valuable that today about 1,600 of our sea scouts are on daily coast guard duty."

"A tremendous lot has entered the

"After an air raid the boy scouts help clear the bombed areas, work with the wounded and handle the crowds. The London police have 7,000 boy scout orderlies.

"In a recent air raid I was riding in a train which was hit. I escaped injury and when I turned to help another man who had been badly wounded, I found a boy scout already there ahead of me, giving first aid.

"When the war broke out, Germans in this country sought to destroy culverts, bridges, electric light wires or cables. The boy scouts were on the job so quickly practically no destruction was accomplished.

"That is the best message I can send to the boy scouts of America.

"Know what to do, know how to do it, and be ready to do it!"

THREE SONS GIVEN TO SERVICE OF COUNTRY

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Johnson, of Antwerp, Have Trio of Boys in the Army.

Antwerp, O., Aug. 21.—Not often does it occur that parents are asked to give three sons to our country's service, but this has occurred here. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Johnson are the parents of three boys, all of whom have signed up to do their bit. Frederick, Thomas and Charles, aged respectively 35, 29 and 25 years. Fred and Charles are but recently returned from Korea, Asia, where they were employed for a number of years in a mine owned by a big French syndicate. Fred also being a stockholder, and sold his holdings for something like $30,000, and the boys concluded to return home, arriving in America just in time to become enthusiastic in Uncle Sam's cause. Fred desired to join the aviation section, but for some reason gave it up and joined the ambulance corps, as did his brother, Charles. Thomas is a telegrapher in the employ of the Western railway and has not yet been assigned to duty. There are but five children in the family, three boys and two girls, one of them married to H. K. Harris, cashier of the Antwerp Exchange bank, Flossie, the youngest, being yet at home. Since the arrival home of Fred and Charles, the family has been reunited, and have been very happy until the war clouds began to darken. Their parents are patriotic, and yet while they regret that the boys must go to the defense of the honor of our country, they bid them do their duty. The boys are at Camp Perry now and expect to go with the "Rainbow Division" to France in a short time. They have a legion of friends here that wish them good luck and a safe return.

Antwerp Minor Notes.

Miss Gertrude Banks, stenographer in the offices of the E. H. Close Realty company, at Toledo, is expected home today to spend a two weeks' vacation, the first she has enjoyed in two years' service with this company. She will get acquainted again with her parents, T. C. Banks and wife, whose guest she will be during this time.

Much preparation is being made for the chautauqua that begins here Thursday. The town wears a festive appearance, the streets being festooned with bright colored banners advertising the event, and everybody is up on their toes in anticipation of a week of good entertainment.

Donald Hudson and Paul Reeb, accompanied by lady friends, were caught in an automobile accident Saturday evening, that resulted very fortunately for the occupants of the machine. When speeding along the highway near Harlan, Ind., the machine took a notion to do a flip-flop. It accomplished it in good form, but became a wreck in the attempt. The auto was a rented one, belonging to Isaac Bojce of this place, and will require quite a number of "iron men" to get it doctored in shape again. The lucky part of the smashup is—no one was hurt.

Mrs. R. J. Coats was a passenger to Fort Wayne, Saturday, from there going to Lafayette, Ind., where she will visit relatives for a short time.

Porter Hawkins and Albert A. Griggs of Antwerp, were members of Company B to be selected to go with the Mapey was knocked from the top of a fifty-foot pole to the sidewalk and was dead when picked up. The two injured men although severely burned clung to their places on the pole until rescued.

BUZZ OR NO BUZZ?

Two interesting novelties are the blouse with the buttons in the back and the blouse that has no buttons at all. Which one you choose depends upon how well your husband is trained to button you up and how carefully he does it. The buttonless model to which we refer has a surprise flitch which clasps with a brooch. The lingerie idea has even invaded the territory of the peplum, and we observe some stunning waists of marquisette and voile that slip over the head and extend almost to the line of the knees.

MOVIES A SUCCESS IN WAR PROPAGANDA

Two Millions of Indiana People Already Have Seen Pictures.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 21.—More than 2,000,000 Indiana moving picture show patrons have been reached, to date, in the educational campaign being conducted by Indiana exhibitors in support of war preparation.

This fact is brought out in reports made to Frank J. Rembusch, temporary chairman of the organization committee of the American Exhibitors' association, who is in charge of the Indiana campaign.

Mr. Rembusch was appointed director of the propaganda in Indiana by William A. Brady, of New York, who was placed in charge of the nation-wide campaign by the council of national defense.

Special emphasis was given in the Indiana movies to the conservation of man-power propaganda, which is in the promotion of the United States Boys' Working Reserve, directed by Isaac D. Straus, of Ligonier.

The exhibitors are financing these displays themselves. It costs about $300 every time a set of slides is shown, so the magnitude of the patriotic contribution they are making, is apparent.

AT THE PALACE

DELIGHT DANCE LOVERS.

Marmein Sisters Rare Exponents of Classic Dancing.

The two American girls, the Marmein Sisters, are proving a rare delight to the lovers of the best school of classic dancing in their interpretive numbers at the New Palace. These girls who have earned the plaudits of the dance critics from coast to coast, present their several dances with that finish and polish that make so much for success in vaudeville. Of course, the big bang-up act on the bill is the medley of syncopated songs and jazz instrumental numbers done by the Tennessee Ten, a romping group of ten darkies who can rag it quite as well as they can harmonize. It is a high speed bit of riotous fun set to music that leaves everyone laughing.

Demarest and Collette have just enough serious music to make the nut comedy of the male end of this team all the more amusing. The girl is a charming bit of femininity with a wealth of raven black hair that would make a movie queen turn green with envy, while Demarest's acrobatic absurdities and his foolish observations and still more ludicrous facial expressions bring laugh after laugh. W. S. Hurvey and Miss Madge Anderson open the bill with some startling heavy weight juggling. Burnham and Yant, a nifty singing pair, have a novelty song turn, in which Miss Burnham uses her splendidly flexible double voice to good advantage. Dorothy Kenton with her singing banjo, completes this bill.

AT THE GRAND

FAVORITE FILM FEATURES.

Twice a Week, Wednesday and Thursday, You Will See Them.

The Grand theater has arranged booking for each Wednesday and Thursday, on the "Favorite Film Features," the new unit of the Vitaphone productions.

These features, selected from the best pictures in the Vitaphone library, were favorites two, three or four years ago and the players who appear in them are among the greatest on the screen today.

In every picture, whether it be comedy or drama, appear a number of the greatest stars known to picturedom then or now, names which have the greatest of box-office value. None of them are players without reputations who need recitation of publicity and personal advertising to put them across, but these stars are known the length and breadth of this continent. Their names have been by words with motion picture patrons for years and the pictures in which they appeared while under the Vitaphone standard are among the very best ever released.

Certainly there can be no more valuable stars than such names as Clara Kimball Young, Edith Storey, Sidney Drew, John Bunny, Norma Talmadge, Kate Price, Wallie Van, Ralph Ince and Rosemary Theby, and these are but a few of the famous whose followers are legion.

They were first put on the market on July 23 and the intention is to release them in three reels weekly hereafter, the program being made up of a two-reel drama and a one-reel comedy or vice versa. For instance, the program for Wednesday and Thursday will be "The Test," a two-reel drama in which Clara Kimball Young and Earl Williams are featured; also a one-reel comedy, "The Late Mr. Jones," featuring Sidney Drew. The management of the Grand has arranged booking for six weeks in advance and each Wednesday and Thursday some of the above stars will appear on the program. Also arrangements have been completed to begin a new serial entitled "The Fighting Trail." Watch for the date.

MAY BE PROTEST OVER LAST GAME OF DOUBLE BILL

Chicago, Aug. 21.—There may be a protest over the second game of yesterday's double-header between the Boston and Chicago teams of the American League.

President Coniskey, of the locals, will decide this after a conference with Manager Rowland. The first game was interrupted by rain. The second did not begin until 4:51 o'clock. The sun set at 6:44. In this arises the point of possible protest, for the league rules are said to set forth that all contests shall begin two hours before sunset.

This game went eight innings and resulted 3 to 1 in favor of the visitors. The splitting of the double-header left the standing unchanged. More rain fell last night and the sky was overcast this forenoon. It was predicted that Williams would pitch for Chicago this afternoon and Leonard for Boston.

The new Packard twin six is here. See it on exhibition at Stults Motor Co., 225 West Main street.

The German report says, had to be wrested at the cost of sanguinary losses. In bitter hand to hand fighting and by counter attacks the French were driven back almost everywhere.

FRENCH REJOICE.

Paris, Aug. 21.—Yesterday's victory of the French on the Verdun front was welcomed by the French people not only because after it the Germans no longer hold one of their dearly bought conquests won since the first rush on the Verdun fortress in Feb. 1916, but as proof that the unity of action among the entente allies is at work.

The British, Italian and French fronts are all active at the same time making it possible that weakness may develop somewhere along the German and Austrian lines confronting them. The Figaro, however, warns its readers against expecting too much.

It is admitted in military circles that an offensive with a three days' preliminary bombardment cannot be a surprise. The German press has shown for ten days that the present attack had been expected, even the exact extent of the front from Avocourt wood to Ornes being stated.

The precise minute when a bombardment will cease or rather change to a barrage fire cutting off the first stage of the infantry rush, however, remains a secret.

Thus the Germans were surprised at 4:40 o'clock yesterday morning when the French made a bound along some fifteen miles of front and it was twelve good minutes before the German barrage fire opened.

This delay allowed the French to occupy the first German lines without losses. They were found to be almost empty at one point. Only on the slopes of Talu hill did a single company succeed in holding out in a subterranean stronghold. With its young second lieutenant as the only officer, the entire company was taken prisoner.

By 6 o'clock a French aviator returned and dropped a sketch of Le Mort Homme marked with crosses showing the points occupied. An hour later a homing pigeon brought news that hill 304 and Le Mort Homme on the left bank of the Meuse and that hill 344 on the right bank, had been occupied. The Germans used only asphyxiating shells for their barrage fire thus placing the French troops under the handicap of wearing masks.

HIT RUMANIAN FRONT.

Petrograd, Aug. 21.—Austro-German forces are making vigorous attacks on the southern Rumanian front. The war office announcement of today says that stubborn resistance is being offered by the Russians and Rumanians who, however, were forced back at several points. On the Caucasian front where the Russians recently took the offensive, a further large advance has been made, a series of villages being captured.

GERMANS BEATEN BACK.

Paris, Aug. 21.—Counter attacks of extreme violence were made by the Germans last night in an effort to recapture positions taken in the French offensive on the Verdun front. The war office announces that the Germans were beaten back with heavy losses. The number of prisoners now exceeds five thousand.

The German attacks were especially severe at Avocourt wood and north of Caubert. Attacks also were made by the Germans without success on the Aisne front near Cerny and Hurlbeise.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY'S WAR NEWS

Last night and the new French lines stood firm in the face of counter-attacks of extreme violence. On the front north of Verdun, especially at Avocourt wood and north of Caubert, the fighting was particularly severe. The Germans, beaten back, met with heavy losses. The number of prisoners taken by the French now exceeds 5,000.

The Germans also returned to the attack on the Aisne front striking at Cerny and Hurlbeise. The reports of the repulse of these assaults.

On the British front the Germans last night made their third attempt to recapture positions recently wrested from them near Epehy, northwest of St. Quentin. A determined attack was made in which the Germans employed flame throwers but they were repulsed completely by the British, who held all their positions.

Heavy fighting continues on the southern Rumanian front. The Russians and Rumanians are offering stiff resistance but Petrograd reports officially they have been forced back further at several points. German troops have reached the outskirts of Oren, 75 miles west of the provisional Rumanian capital, Jassy. In the direction of Pokshani, the Germans took the offensive along the railroad advancing on both sides of it. A counter attack west of the railway resulted in restoration of the Russ-Rumanian position.

On the northern Russian front increasing activity is reported. The Germans are bombarding heavily the Russian trenches west of the Riga Mitau railway. The Russian offensive on the Caucasian front has resulted in the capture of several villages. The Turkish made an attack in the direction of Kharpout and gained initial success but subsequently were expelled from the captured positions. British aviators who have been making frequent attacks in Belgium, carried out another bombing expedition Sunday night. They dropped many tons of explosives on military objectives, the British admiralty reports. All the airplanes returned safely.

Goldenburg and Smirnoff, of Petrograd, representing the Russian council of soldiers' and workmen's delegates, were received today by a committee of the general confederation of labor and extended an invitation to the confederation to send representatives to the international conference of socialists at Stockholm. After considerable discussion the invitation was accepted.

BRITISH REPLY IN.

Rome, Aug. 21.—The reply of the British government to the peace note of Pope Benedict was handed to Cardinal Gasparri, the papal secretary of state, by the British minister on Monday. The reply says the pope's note will be examined in a benevolent and serious spirit.

"It is a part of the history of all great wars that wealth has demanded the minimum of taxation and the maximum of loans, while the poorer classes have demanded the maximum of taxation and the minimum of loans and this difference is accentuated now since war profits and excessive incomes are being forced by taxation to contribute some portion of the revenue which war makes it necessary to raise.

"Wealth has never yet sacrificed itself on the altar of patriotism in any war," he continued. "On the contrary, it has ever shown itself eager to take advantage of the misfortune which war always brings to the masses of the people. That has been true of every war we have had and it is certainly true of the present war.

"It may be argued that the poor equally with the rich will have the opportunity to purchase war bonds. It is small comfort to have the opportunity to purchase bonds if you have little or no money to invest in bonds. The late liberty loan is a good example of bonds sold to the poor or those of limited means. All the machinery of the government was set in motion to sell these bonds and the result was that we all know that these bonds were a poor investment to the man of small means in comparison with the advantages which the owners of large incomes could secure from investing millions of their taxable incomes in these non-taxable bonds.

"The government has made them the equivalent of an investment paying from 5 to 9 per cent and more to persons with large incomes, who will escape the income tax on every dollar thus invested; while to the wage earner and the man with a salary so small as not to be reached by the income tax who pitched and saved and sacrificed in order to purchase them, they return but a meagre 3 1/2 per cent. The result is that these bonds will soon find their way wholly into the hands of the wealthy. But this is not all. Paying for a war mainly by selling bonds inevitably forces inflation, and inflation raises prices, greatly increasing the cost of living to the masses.

"We are counseled by the highest economic authority, we are admonished by all history, we are commanded by every consideration of justice to the American boys who are marked for slaughter; to the American homes already in the shadow of death to declare here and now by their all to this record that the wealth of this country will be taken as mercilessly as men are taken by force of the draft.

"Have Burned Nothing Yet. "Too many people, for the comfort of the ruling classes in the warring countries of Europe are asking today why they should give their all to the government from which they have received so little while the favored classes pass through the furnace of war unscathed.

"If the billions of our people's money which we are now smilingly putting into the furnace of the European war were all we had to consider, the question would not be so serious. But if this war should last another year or two years think what it will mean to the financial resources of this country. Remember that we have not yet burned up a single dollar worth of powder; we have not yet exploded a single shell, the cost of some of which exceed the annual income of the average man. It is not improbable that the entire income of all the people of the country, estimated at thirty-eight billion dollars, will not equal the money cost of the second year of this war. We must face these facts and realize the true situation in our financial policy by an adequate system of taxation at the beginning.

By keeping down taxes and increasing bonds Senator LaFollette said the masses are being "mortgaged to the money lenders."

Loans to the allies, the senator said, may and may not be repaid, certainly not for many years after the war. Russia, he said, is in the throes of the revolution and Italy, reports are correct, is on the eve of one.

Cannot Ropay for Years. "Even England and France," he added, "will be in no position to repay loans for a long time and if this war should last for several years, what political transformations may occur in any country in Europe no one can foretell."

Possibility of broad lines this winter because of the high cost of living, he pictured thus in conclusion: "Always remember that the high prices already upon us have taxed the common people of this country for the support of this war to a much greater extent than the wealthy class would be taxed if every dollar of income of the members of that class were taken by taxation. When bread lines shall be a familiar sight in every city of this land, as they are bound to be if the present price of the simple necessities of life is maintained during the coming winter, when cold and hunger are daily visitors in many thousands of homes, which have known only comfort heretofore, a condition certain to exist during the coming winter months, unless relief from present prices can be found, it will be small satisfaction, I think, to the members of this congress to realize that they have contributed to the want and suffering of the mass of people by refusing to place even an approximately fair portion of the financial burden of this war upon the rich."

Rebukes Senators.

Senator La Follette delivered his speech in his usual vigorous style and several times pointed out senators talking together and asked them to stop, saying it caused him annoyance. His address was made to a considerable number of senators remaining in the chamber and he was seldom interrupted. Occasionally digressing from his prepared speech, the senator said his address today was based primarily upon the income tax schedule. When the war profits section is reached he promised another "thorough discussion."

HOGS AT $20 IS NEW RECORD FOR AMERICAN PORK

Chicago, Aug. 21.—Choice heavy hogs sold at $20 per hundred weight today. The price marked an advance of $3 in the last eleven days. Recent government contracts for bacon were computed by buyers on the basis of $20 hogs. The following table of prices indicates the dizzy heights to which prices have been driven:

August 1, 1914	$ 8.90
August 1, 1915	6.85
August 1, 1916	10.30
August 1, 1917	16.30
August 21, 1917	20.00

Monday is the big day for hog receipts but there were only 18,000 head yesterday compared with the normal supply of 30,000. The number of hogs in the country is said to be increasing but they are being slaughtered earlier than ever owing to high prices and the total weight of pork is said to have shrunk alarmingly.

ARM SEVERED BY FALLING BUCKET

Young Man Critically Hurt
When Hoisting Cable Broke.

The left arm of Charles Treux, of Hamilton, Ind., who rooms at 529 Barr street, was virtually severed between the elbow and the shoulder when a bucket filled with cement fell thirty feet and struck him, Tuesday morning, shortly before noon. The accident occurred at the traction company power plant, on Spy Run avenue, where work of building a large chimney is under way. Treux is in the St. Joseph hospital. Physicians are consulting on the matter of amputating the arm.

The young man was engaged in filling the buckets and in coupling the containers to the hoist cable, at the base of the raising stack. He had fastened a bucket to the cable hook and was resting with his arm extended against the base of the stack as a support. When the heavy cement holder dangled thirty feet above his head the cable, which was drawing the bucket upward, broke. Fellow workmen called too late. The falling container struck Treux's arm.

The member was virtually severed. The lower portion of the arm is held intact only by shreds of muscle. The police patrol was summoned at once. The wounded workman, who suffered excruciating pain, was removed to the hospital, where his condition is considered serious.

The women wearing furs. The stuff corn. The stiff collar. The perspiration. The thermometer. The melted butter. The sour milk and cream. The faucet's lukewarm water. The draft law here Thursday. The crowded back from a vacation. The crowded street cars. The wireless night. The flat tire. And—The heat.

CORN DROPS TO LOW FIGURE FOR SEASON

Mark of $1.68 Reached on Local Market—Oats
Also Drops.

A marked weakness was noted along the line on the local markets Tuesday morning. Corn, which reached the lowest mark for several months, sold at the city scales for $1.68 to $1.75 per bushel. Only two loads were weighed at these prices.

Receipts were light Tuesday, only thirteen loads being weighed in all. Seven loads of new hay brought $12 per ton, a recession of $1 on the ton from the top mark of the day before.

The oats market was also weak, falling as low as 52c per bushel. Four loads were weighed at the city scales, all of them the new grain. The prices ranged from 52c to 62c per bushel.

A rise in the price of creamery butter is noted on the local market. Pound prints are now quoted at 42c wholesale, thirty to sixty pound containers going at 41¢41½c respectively.

SIGNAL CORPS MEN

HELPING RED CROSS

Children Also Greatly Aid Relief Work of Local Chapter.

Among the latest additions to the helpers of the Red Cross chapter in this city are the members of Company B, signal corps. These young men have offered their services for the past week at the headquarters, aiding greatly in carpenter work and other services.

Juvenile workers continue to do their share in the great work. Little Violet Stroud, who has been appearing at the Lyric theater in a vaudeville skit with her parents, donated the sum of $11.10 to the local chapter. This little girl is making donations to the Red Cross chapters in all the towns where she appears. She is only twelve years old.

Another donation of $3 came from five little girls who sold candy. They were Thelma and Phyllis Hanson, Lillian Rohrbach, Benadette Phelps and Sylvia Weintraub.

During the past four days, a total of twenty-three new members has been received at the headquarters on East Berry street. A thorough campaign for new members is to be started soon.

Many inquiries are coming in to the local headquarters in regard to the classes in the home care of the sick. A class of sixteen was recently graduated, and arrangements are being made for the opening of new classes under the instruction of Miss Frances Ott.

WOLFESSAUER

Enter—Fall Fashions for 1917

Le Dernier Cri

Fashion has drafted the Autumn styles. The materials have had the stamp of approval; the correct length of the coats has been determined to the fraction of an inch; the fullness of the skirts arranged to a nicety; the set of the sleeves and such important matters as the cut of the collar and slash of the pockets have received solicitous care—and the brilliant new fashions for Fall are ready!

New Suits, New Coats, New Dresses, New Blouses, in an Advance Showing Tomorrow —and every woman who wishes to see the first authentic styles for the coming season is invited to inspect this advance showing.

The New Coats

Your love for beautiful things will be thoroughly satisfied with the new Coats for Fall—every detail is perfect.

The deep, rich materials—the gorgeous linings—the graceful sweep of the skirt—the cleverly fashioned collars and belts.

One handsome model is fashioned of tier after tier of capes, the same idea being followed out in the sleeves, and the collar of Kolinsky adding a note of richness. Other beautiful Coats are of soft duvety, with and without fur collars.

Autumn Frocks are of Serge and Satin

—Their simple, straight lines are enhanced occasionally by rich embroideries, although simplicity is the keynote of the Fall mode in dresses. Serges and satins are most popular for early Autumn wear, and black has the preference in either material. Women in the east are wearing counterparts of these clever little dresses right now, for nothing could be more practical than their simple, tailored lines.

Autumn Suits

Fashion is responsive rather than capricious. Like the robin on the lookout for his breakfast, she keeps her ear to the ground and discerns those faint stirrings which escape the denser perception. No wonder, then, that her pronouncements are so eagerly awaited and so unquestioningly accepted by her devotees.

And now, informed by this alert intelligence of hers, she foresees certain changes in the prevailing modes. Coats, for the more elaborate suits, will be long—in many instances almost to the bottom of the skirt. The many shades of brown—taupe, havana, and seal and a new color called beet root, will be smart, while among the furs to be used are nutria, flying squirrel, beaver and seal. However, we get a feminine note of gaiety even amid somberness, for suits are to be lined with soft satin, in changeable colors, and glimmers of gold and silver thread will brighten embroidery.

But far more radical a change is that one which deprives the sleeve of its floating freedom and confines it to the lines designed by nature. Sometimes, to insure snugness, it is even buttoned to the elbow and clasped at the wrist with links. The close-fitting sleeve will, undoubtedly, bring many a devotee to the shrine of physical culture.

DUTIES QUESTIONED

BY REPRESENTATIVES

Government's Interests Not

Clear in Draft

Cases.

Some question has arisen as to the duties of the men recently appointed to represent the government in draft subdivisions. The instructions from the state conscription agent, Jesse Eschbach, do not make the position of the new men appointed seem quite clear, it is said, by those who have been appointed in this city.

Cases of appeal or where appeals are desired to be made have been brought to Commissioner Logan and Judge Wood for information regarding cases where exemptions have been refused by exemption boards. It has been understood, however, that these men represent only the interests of the government and are interested only in the government's side of the case. The impression has been given by this that the men representing the best interests of the government will seek evidence of cases where exemptions have been granted where they should not have been. The status of these men does not seem to be clearly defined, it is pointed out.

The local representatives who have already been notified of their appointment, have been told that the offices are entirely unremunerative, but where the work is heavy enough to justify it, expense will be allowed for clerical and stenographic work. Persons in whose behalf exemption claims have been filed and disallowed, have already brought their cases before the men who represented the government's interests but the impression that they can do anything in their cases is thought to be erroneous.

GARFIELD MAY BE NAMED COAL DICTATOR

WILLIAMS COLLEGE HEAD LOOKED OVER FOR APPOINTMENT

Son of Martyred President Held to Be Choice, But Wilson Has Given No Indication.

PRESIDENT THINKS COAL IS TOO HIGH

Washington, Aug. 21.—There were outward indications today that President Wilson was seriously considering the appointment of President Harry A. Garfield, of Williams college as coal administrator.

Mr. Garfield already has been named as a member of the food administration committee which will fix the price of the 1917 wheat crop.

Whether Mr. Garfield could take on the duties of the coal administrator in addition was not made clear.

President Wilson cancelled the usual Tuesday cabinet meeting to devote his attention to the coal situation. President Wilson is about to appoint a coal administrator but he has not selected the man for the place. It is noted that the president feels there is no question that the price of coal is too high and is anxious to settle that question as soon as possible.

President Wilson's next move toward the establishment of government control of the coal industry, following the appointment of Judge Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the Union Pacific railroad as director of priority of transportation, is expected to be the selection within a day or so of a coal administrator. There was no intimation to be had today concerning the identity of the man the president will name to control coal production and distribution and exercise the price fixing powers given in the food bill.

Summary of the Day's War News

The Austrian line on the Isonzo front is beginning to bend and give way at various points under the furious attacks of the Italians. Rome announces officially. The Italians are making progress toward a success which, the statement says, is becoming delineated in spite of undiminished resistance by the Austrians. More than 10,000 prisoners have been taken in the new battle of the Isonzo and strong Austrian defenses have fallen into the hands of the attackers. Seldom during the war has an official communication been worded in such confident terms and unless the Austrians are able to rally their shattered forces developments of far-reaching importance may follow quickly.

Canadian troops made another attack early this morning. Germans who advanced at the same time made a hurried retreat on encountering the Canadians. Few details have been reported of the subsequent fighting which developed into one of the most desperate hand to hand struggles of the war.

The German reaction to the successful French stroke at Verdun came

GOVERNMENT MULES MAKE CALIFORNIA TOWN REAL DESERT

San Diego, Cal., Aug. 21.—The United States army mules will make most of San Diego "dry" tonight, according to the interpretation of a ruling by the department of justice. Orders providing for the discontinuance of the sale of liquor within one-half mile of the aviation school barracks were interpreted to apply also to an uptown stable of the quartermaster corps doors.

GNAWING FROM COB ADDS MUCH TO CORN PRICE

Chicago, Aug. 21.—A member of the corps of food administrators for Illinois today called attention to the wide differences in the price of corn on the cob received by the producer and that paid by the ultimate consumer in Chicago. It was pointed out that commission men were paying 16 1/2 cents a dozen ears, or one and a third cents an ear.

Retail grocers sold it at forty cents a dozen or three and a third cents an ear. At the leading hotels and restaurants the vegetable brought thirty cents an order of one ear, while at the moderate priced eating places it could be had for fifteen cents an ear.

TAX WEALTH, NOT PEOPLE

LaFollette in a Senate Speech Draws Dismal Picture.

RICHES MUST SERVE AS WELL AS HUMANS

Wisconsin Man Sees Vision of Bread Lines the Coming Winter.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 21.—Conscription of wealth to pay for the war was urged in the senate today by Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, in presenting the minority plans of the finance committee for higher rates in the war tax bill on war profits and incomes. He suggested increasing the $2,000,000,000 bill to more than $3,500,000,000 by such increases with elimination of consumption taxes. He also urged that less bonds and more taxes be authorized.

The Wisconsin senator declared government was demanding war while their peoples were asking for peace and contended that 85 per cent of the men drafted are protesting.

Bonds Desired by Rich.

Large bond issues desired by wealthy interests, he contended, inflate prices and increase the present high cost of living which he asserted already imposes a fifty to one hundred per cent war burden upon the masses. The liberty loan, he said, was made possible by an "iron hand within a kid glove" and persistent advertising methods. The pending bill, Mr. La Follette stated, provides by taxes but 17 per cent of this year's war expenses while Great Britain imposes 26 per cent. Next year's war expenses, he predicted, may reach $30,000,000,000 or $40,000,000,000 and he urged that huge war profits and incomes of wealthy persons by higher sur-taxes be made to bear the burden of the war.

Urges Increase of Taxes.

Urging a larger proportion of taxes, the Wisconsin senator said:

GRAIN DEALERS AND MILLERS OF STATE TO MEET

Indianapolis, Aug. 21.—A meeting of all grain dealers and millers in the state has been called for 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon by Charles B. Riley, secretary of the Indiana Millers' association and the Indiana Grain Dealers' association. The purpose is to discuss the food conservation movement.

Indianapolis, Aug. 21.—Nothing definite about a special session of the Indiana legislature had been decided early today, and no decision may be reached before late tonight or early tomorrow it was said. A conference of the leaders in the legislature last week it was said a decision might be expected early today.

GRAND ARMY HAS PARADE

Annual March of Grizzled Veterans of Civil War Held in Boston.

BOYS IN BLUE ARE SEEN BY CROWDS

Good Weather for Thinning Ranks to Follow the Flag Again.

Boston, Aug. 21.—Several thousand aged men in blue, survivors of the army which fought for the union more than half a century ago, marched with brave step through Boston streets today.

The route was the shortest ever selected for the annual parade of the national encampment of the Grand army of the Republic.

The veterans were favored by a clear sky, moderate temperature and a refreshing breeze. The chief marshal was J. Payson Bradley, of this city.

In the line were the departments of the Grand Army in order of seniority of organization. The officers and past commanders-in-chief in automobiles, the Sons of Veterans, former prisoners of war, naval veterans and a guard of disabled veterans in cars.

Commander-in-chief William J. Patterson reviewed the parade from a large grandstand on the Tremont street side of the Common. Governor McCall was at the state house and Mayor Curley at the city hall.

COMMISSIONERS TO RUSSIA MEET TO MAKE REPORT

Washington, Aug. 21.—Edith Root and other members of the American mission which visited Russia recently have returned to Washington to close up the affairs of the mission. Formal reports by Mr. Root for the commission as a whole and of the individual members upon the subjects which they were specially charged to investigate already have been submitted to Secretary Lansing and have been referred to the state war and navy departments. It is not the present intention to make any of them public, although the substance of some may appear later in development of the war plans of the government. Mr. Root is deeply interested in the immediate adoption of some of the measures for the relief of Russia which were touched upon in the reports. That is particularly true of the needs of Russia for locomotives and rolling stock to keep the armies properly supplied with food and munitions.

WHERE SUMMER BOARDERS ARE SPEEDED AWAY

Copenhagen, Aug. 21.—Speed the parting guests is now the motto of the Bavarian government, finding that the plague of tourists in the Bavarian highlands and other resorts is eating the natives out of house and home.

Visitors now have been limited to one week's stay and the police have been instructed to expel without even this delay any outsider guilty or suspected of buying up food. Every effort will be made to discourage the winter season at the mountain resorts.

WEST VIRGINIA SHOWS HOW TO DO A GOOD BIT

Huntington, W. Va., Aug. 21.—So that some practical use may be made of the thousands of gallons of intoxicants which are being confiscated by state prohibition authorities District Attorney F. W. McCulloch has presented a proposal to federal department of agriculture heads that the liquor be redistributed and the reclaimed alcohol used in the manufacture of war munitions.

Large quantities of intoxicants are daily being confiscated in West Virginia and poured into rivers or sewers.

EIGHT KILLED IN AUTO SMASH ON GRADE CROSSING

Saybrook Junction, Conn., Aug. 21.—A freight engine running light over the Shore line division of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad late last night struck and crushed at a crossing an automobile owned and driven by Robert H. Rohloff, of New Haven, who had with him a party of four adults and four children. All the members of the automobile party were killed except Louise W. Weyel, aged 9.

The dead are: Robert H. Rohloff, Gustave Weyel, his wife and their three children, Miss Mabel Wagner and Mrs. Louis Astorino.

All belonged in New Haven to which city the party was returning after a trip to New London.

MARINES IN REAL GAME

Uncle Sam's First Fighters Getting Ready to Enter Trenches.

HARD PRACTICE AT MODERN WARFARE

Show Great Form and Will Be Prepared Soon to Show Stuff.

American Training Camp in France, Aug. 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Training of some of the battalions has progress to such a point that sham attacks on the trench system are being carried out with a degree akin to actual warfare. Thus far warfare has been only theoretical, but before long the troops expect to have the experience of watching the effect of real artillery upon the trenches. The marines are having some especially lively engagements this week with their French instructors. French chasseurs acting as the enemy have been making attacks upon the marines' trench system.

The marines have been making stout resistance and wherever the "enemy" penetrated their lines they quickly ejected the intruders. The real object of these preliminary attacks is to get officers and men acquainted with what are known at the front as operation orders. It is the first step toward learning the rudiments of a highly organized part of modern warfare where every step and every detail is worked out in advance on a pre-arranged plan and must be strictly adhered to.

One great difference from real warfare, however, is the fact that in battles with the marines the "enemy" has accommodated himself to a copy of his operation orders to fall into the hands of the defending garrison.

This will be changed later and the American trench garrison will be called upon to resist surprise attacks in force. Another valuable feature is in teaching Americans the great importance of what is known as liaison work—the maintenance of communication with supporting artillery with flanking forces, with airplanes and with information centers. Attacks are accompanied by a lively rocket display as SOS signals are sent up for defending the curtain of fire from the artillery and calling reserves from companies in support of the trenches. The rockets are also used in the guise of artillery fire by shortening and lengthening ranges. The evacuation of wounded under theoretical shell fire is another feature of sham battles which is receiving attention.

PATRIOTISM IS PLEA OF SUNDAY LAW VIOLATORS

New York, Aug. 21.—Declaring that instead of being summoned into court to answer a charge of violating the Sunday law they should be commended for rendering service to a patriotic cause, Police Court Magistrate McGuire today dismissed summonses against John McGraw, manager of the New York Nationals, and Christy Mathewson, manager of the Cincinnati Nationals. The baseball managers conducted a baseball game Sunday for which no fee was charged, which was followed by a concert to which admission was charged, the proceeds going to dependents of a regiment that is soon to go to France.

ITALIAN SMASH ON THE ISONZO FRONT SUCCESS

Italians Have Taken Ten Thousand Prisoners and Decisive Result Is Said to Be Imminent.

CANADIANS MAKE NEW GAINS AT LENS

Rome, Aug. 21.—More than 10,000 prisoners had been taken by the Italians in their new offensive up to yesterday evening, the war office announces.

The great battle on the Isonzo front continues without interruption. The war office states that the Austrian line is beginning to bend and give way at various points.

The Italians supported by floating and fixed batteries and mortars are marching toward success which, the statement says, is becoming delineated in spite of undiminished enemy resistance.

CANADIANS IN GAIN.

London, Aug. 21.—Canadian troops around Lens launched another attack on the western environment of the French mining city at 4:30 o'clock this morning reports the Reuters correspondent from the British headquarters.

The attacks developed into one of the most desperate hand to hand battles of the war.

When the Canadians went over the top they saw masses of gray figures advancing towards them in the thick haze. Both sides had planned the attack at the same moment. Fifteen minutes after the clash came the Germans were making their last stand on the parapet of their trench. They then retreated rapidly.

HIT RUMANIAN FRONT.

Petrograd, Aug. 21.—Austro-German forces are making vigorous attacks on the southern Rumanian front. The war office announcement of today says that stubborn resistance is being offered by the Russians and Rumanians who, however, were forced back at several points. On the Caucasian front where the Russians recently took the offensive, a further large advance has been made, a series of villages being captured.

BATTLE STILL ON.

Berlin, Aug. 21.—The battle before Verdun has not yet ended, the German headquarters staff announced today. This morning fresh engagements developed at various places. The statement adds: "Our troops and leaders anticipate a favorable battle."

In many places colored and white French troops penetrated the German defensive zone in which every step forward,

CHANGE IS UP TO PRESIDENT

Wilson Will Have to Make Any Modification of Draft Rules.

EXEMPTION FOR MARRIAGE PHASE

Rigid Ruling of Crowder to Stand Unless Wilson Upsets It.

Washington, Aug. 21.—If there is to be any modification of the present rigid ruling of the provost marshal general regarding exemptions of married men from draft, it is known only to President Wilson, who alone has authority to alter or modify those regulations.

The war department, so far basing its rulings on what it interprets as the intention of congress in passing the draft law, has gone on the theory that a man's exemption was based on a condition of dependency, rather than on the mere condition of marriage.

The department still holds to that view and will urge it upon the president. Recently President Wilson, in a letter to Senator Weeks, of Massachusetts, referred briefly to the claims of married men to exemption in what was interpreted by many as a sympathetic tone, but today there was no intimation from any official source that he intends to modify the rulings of the war office in that regard.

HOOKWORM HAS MADE INVASION OF ARMY CAMPS

Washington, Aug. 21.—Discovery of hookworm infection in forty-seven out of seventy-five military recruits recently mobilized for war service has caused public health service authorities to recommend prompt examination of all units of the national guard and national army at present organized, especially those from the warmer portions of the country.

Prevalence of hookworm was found by Dr. Ch. Wardell Stiles, of the public health service, at a government reservation where he was making experiments.

Complaint by a recruit of not feeling well, after officers suspected him of trying to shirk his duty, resulted in medical examination. Hookworm infection was found. Other examinations showed a high percentage of hookworm. Dr. Stiles has reported to the public health service that failure to locate hookworm cases undoubtedly will result in unjust and preventable punishment of soldiers for offenses due to medical conditions.

Danger of a widespread epidemic of hookworm in Europe is pointed out if even light cases are sent to the trenches. Those dangers can be prevented to a great extent Dr. Stiles says if all the recruits or at least those from certain states are systematically examined for intestinal parasites and either treated in the American training camps or discharged, as necessary, indicates.

Today's Aid to Beauty

Hair is by far the most conspicuous thing about us and is probably the most easily damaged by bad or careless treatment. If we are very careful in hair washing, we will have virtually no hair troubles. An especially fine shampoo for this weather, one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair, that dissolves and entirely removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt, can easily be used at trifling expense by simply dissolving a teaspoonful of canthox (which you can get at any drugists) in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. This chemically dissolves all impurities and creates a soothing, cooling lather. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on the glossy richness of natural color, also a fluffiness which makes it seem much heavier than it is. After a canthox shampoo, arranging the hair is a pleasure.

MANY YEARS WITH WABASH.

Machinist C. C. Wire Dies After Long Illness.

Relatives of the deceased have received news of the death of Charles C. Wire, which occurred at the home of his father-in-law, Jacob Kaumbauer, in Wabash Monday. The deceased was 50 years, 9 months and 18 days old, and died of cancer and tuberculosis, with which he had been afflicted for a number of months. The surviving relatives are the widow and two children, Marlon and Mary; three brothers and two sisters, as follows: Dr. A. V. Wire, of Wabash; Engineer Frank M. Wire, of Amarillo, Tex.; James V. Wire, of the Wabash shops at Fort Wayne; Mrs. Della Austin, of Wabash; and Mrs. Florence Kellam, of Andrews, Ind. Mr. Wire was a machinist by trade and worked in that capacity for the Wabash many years. Later he worked for the Big Four and the Chicago and Erie roads and was well known in railway and shop circles in this part of the country.

FOUR ACCIDENTS.

Some Boiler Shop Employees Hurt, One Painfully.

There were four personal injury cases at the Pennsylvania shops last night and this morning, but only one was bad. The most serious was that of W. A. Eser, a boilermaker, which occurred this morning. He was at work in the cab of an engine when a part of the reverse lever fell upon and badly bruised one of his feet. He was taken to the Lutheran hospital where Dr. Van Swearingen attended him. It is not believed any of the bones were broken. W. H. Silver, a helper in the department, had his eyes burned by the glare of the electric welder. A misdirected blow landed a heavy hammer on the left forearm of boilermaker J. J. Haas, cutting and bruising the arm badly, and the right hand of R. M. Patterson was cut and bruised when a sledge hammer struck the member. Mr. Patterson is a tender repairman.

LOSS AND DAMAGE COMMITTEE.

Nickel Plate Freight Men Holding Important Meeting.

The loss and damage committee of the Fort Wayne division of the Nickel Plate is holding a meeting in the office of Supt. W. W. Watterson this afternoon. The object of the meeting is to devise methods of handling freight without loss or damage, a most important question in railway circles. The meeting is being attended by J. J. Kearney and J. J. Woods, of Cleveland, the former the general claim agent of the company. Others in attendance are W. F. Watterson, E. S. Kirby, H. E. Allison, E. A. Warner, E. E. Cripe, H. M. Peters, C. P. Durfee, John H. McVey, J. L. Gussey, F. Delling, A. A. Johnson, C. F. Lyons, W. B. Link, O. L. DeVore, and G. G. Gallentine.

FIFTEEN WOMEN EMPLOYES.

G. R. & I. Puts Them at Work in Grand Rapids Yards.

(Grand Rapids Press.)
Necessities of war time have driven the Grand Rapids and Indiana Railway company to employ women workers in the yards and office at the cars. Formerly all employees in both office and yards were men. Now about fifteen women are working in the yards as car cleaners and one is employed in the office as clerk. The women have not yet taken to wearing overalls, however. Continuation of the war, officials say, will make it necessary for more radical departures in the employment of women.

PENNSYLVANIA FIREMAN HURT.

H. Feltenright Injured While Out on the Road.

In alighting from his engine at Columbia City at 1 o'clock this morning, Fireman H. Feltenright, of the Pennsylvania, fell and sustained most painful injuries, necessitating relinquishment of the run over the division. He was given attention from the company's surgeon at Columbia City and later brought to Fort Wayne. It is said his back is injured and that he suffered some injury to his hips.

WILL MEET AT GOSHEN.

The fifty or more members of the Jacob S. Miller family descendants who reside in Fort Wayne and Allen and Wells counties, several of them employees in the railway and other shops in the city, are making arrangements to attend the family reunion at Goshen next Saturday. This will be the seventh reunion of the family and it will probably be the largest gathering of all. Jacob Miller was one of the pioneers of Wells county, taking up a claim on government land three generations of a century ago. The first reunion and two or three of the subsequent ones were held at Robison park and it is probable the next one will be held in that park also. Three years ago the family reunion was held at Swinney park and The Sentinel published a picture of the group.

Kiosell is employed by the contractor in the erection of the office building. He will soon be on duty again.

Doctor Says Crying Need Of the Woman Of Today Is More Iron In Her Blood

TO PUT STRENGTH IN HER NERVES AND COLOR IN HER CHEEKS

Any Woman Who Tires Easily, is Nervous or Irritable, or Looks Pale, Haggard and Worn Should Have Her Blood Examined for Iron Deficiency.

Administration of Nuxated Iron in Clinical Tests Gives Most Astonishing Youthful Strength and Makes Women Look Years Younger

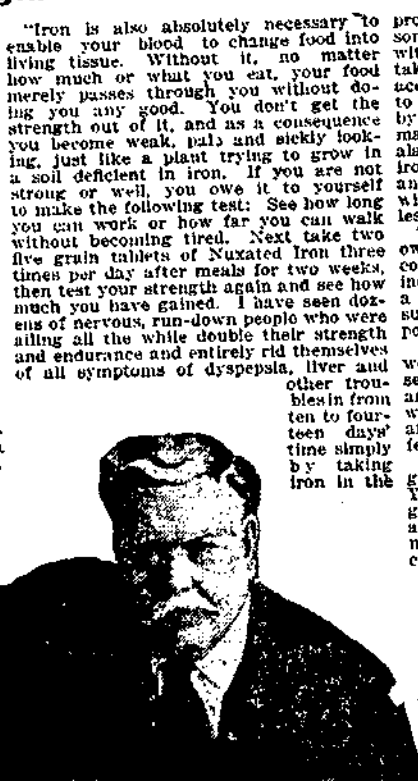

"There can be no healthy, beautiful, rosy cheeks without iron," says Dr. Ferdinand King, a New York physician and medical author. "In my recent talks to physicians on the grave and serious consequences of iron deficiency in the blood of American women, I have strongly emphasized the fact that doctors should prescribe more organic iron—nuxated iron—for their nervous, run-down, weak, haggard-looking women patients. Pallor means anemia. The flesh of the anemic woman is pale, the skin flabby. The muscles lack tone, the brain fades and the memory fails, and often they become weak, nervous, irritable, despondent and melancholy. When the iron goes from the blood of women, the roses go from their cheeks."

In the most common foods of America, the starches, sugars, table syrups, candies, polished rice, white bread, soda crackers, biscuits, macaroni, spaghetti, tapioca, sago, farina, degenerated cornmeal no longer is iron to be found. Refining processes have removed the iron of Mother Earth from these impoverished foods, and silly methods of home cooking, by throwing down the waste pipe the water in which our vegetables are cooked, are responsible for another grave iron loss.

"Therefore, if you wish to preserve your youthful vim and vigor to a ripe old age, you must supply the iron deficiency in your food by using some form of iron."

"As I have said a hundred times over, organic iron is the greatest of all strength builders. If people would only take Nuxated Iron when they feel weak or run down, instead of dosing themselves with habit forming drugs, stimulants and alcoholic beverages I am convinced that in this way they could ward off disease, prevent it becoming organic in thousands of cases and thereby the lives of thousands might be saved who now die every year from pneumonia, a gripe, kidney, liver, heart trouble and other dangerous maladies. The real and true cause which started their disease was iron deficiency—a weakened condition brought on by lack of iron in the blood."

"On account of the peculiar nature of woman, and the great drain placed upon her system at certain periods, she requires iron much more than man to help make up for the loss."

Dr. Ferdinand King, New York Physician and Medical Author, tells physicians that they should prescribe more organic iron—Nuxated Iron—for their patients—Says anaemia—iron deficiency—is the greatest curse to the health, strength, vitality and beauty of the modern American Woman—Says metallizing against use of metallic iron which may injure the teeth, corrode the stomach and do far more harm than good; advises use of only nuxated iron.

Dr. King says: "I have never before given out any medical information or advice for publication, as I ordinarily do not believe in the use of medicine. But so many American women suffer from iron deficiency with its attendant ills—physical weakness, nervous irritability, melancholy, indigestion, flabbiness, etc., etc.—and in consequence of their weakened, run down condition they are so liable to contract serious and even fatal diseases, that I deem it my duty to advise all such to take Nuxated Iron. I have taken it myself and given it to my patients with most surprising and satisfactory results. And those who wish quickly to increase their strength power and endurance, well, it is a most remarkable and wonderfully effective remedy."

Nuxated Iron, which is prepared and recommended above by physicians in such a great variety of cases, is not a patent medicine nor secret remedy, but one which is well known to all and whose ingredients are widely prescribed by eminent physicians both in Europe and America. Unlike the older iron preparations, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach; on the contrary it is a most valuable and healthy food in all forms of indigestion as well as for nervous, run down conditions. The manufacturers have such great confidence in nuxated iron, that they offer to forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution that takes any of their product under 60 who lacks iron, and increase their strength 100 per cent or over in four weeks time, provided they have no serious organic trouble, and are able to afford your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by all good druggists.

Dr. King says: "I have never before given out any medical information or advice for publication, as I ordinarily do not believe in the use of medicine. But so many American women suffer from iron deficiency with its attendant ills—physical weakness, nervous irritability, melancholy, indigestion, flabbiness, etc., etc.—and in consequence of their weakened, run down condition they are so liable to contract serious and even fatal diseases, that I deem it my duty to advise all such to take Nuxated Iron. LANDLADY FELT DEATH

Roomer Tried to Kill Woman
Who Plotted Against Him.

Mrs. Margaret Plock has run a boarding house at 3225 Webster street for most of the time since the Chicago world's fair. She never experienced any trouble with her roomers until Frank Robinson, aged seventy-five, came to her house from Detroit a week ago.

Robinson had the failing of arising in the night and tramping through the neighborhood. The neighbors believe him demented. He arose on Monday night, about the stillly hour, when Mrs. Plock climbed out of bed to see what time the hall clock proclaimed it to be. The aged roomer sprang upon Mrs. Plock like a tiger. He clutched her throat.

"I will kill you," Robinson hissed, the woman told in police court Tuesday morning.

Robinson left dark blue marks on the little woman's neck. He twisted her arms until she is scarcely able to use them as yet. The struggle, which the woman fully believed was a death grapple, moved out to the front walk, where Robinson released his hold and walked away.

The man admitted trying to assault the woman, when he was placed on the witness stand in the city court, Tuesday morning, to answer a disorderly conduct charge. He said he had learned that his landlady had joined with neighbors in a plot to have him locked in the house.

He is held in jail under $200 bond. A sanity inquest will be held for him before the week end.

Nobody Looked.

Half a dozen foreigners were called to testify in the matter of the broken head of Pete Kavinski, Rumanian. The swathy little fellow had a great patch of court plaster over his left eye. He had been struck by the hand of Ellick Galski, a fellow laborer. Police think Galski used a beer bottle.

The men who were clustered about the saloon, near the corner of Wallace and Gay street, and who all speak the rapid fire tongues of southern Europe, were unable to tell the court about the affair. They did not see the blows struck, they all said.

Galski was fined $20 and costs, although he even denied ownership of the knife which police had taken from him.

Not Registered.

John Aukoo, Russian, was shipped to Fort Wayne from Chicago on Monday for railroad construction work. He is twenty-nine years old and not registered for conscription. He knows nothing about the draft law, he said. He was turned over to the custody of federal officers.

Going Back.

Frank McCarthy, 24, was taken from a Wabash freight train early Tuesday morning. He is hurrying back to Steubenville, Ohio, from Chicago in order to be examined for a soldier in the draft army, he says. He was released by the city court and told to hurry on his way.

"You Loose."

John Mourning, colored, had the weakness of arguing with officers who try to conduct him in the way of peace. He got himself in jail by opposing the officer who told him to "move on" when Mourning was discovered in a drunken state on Lafayette street, Monday evening. On Tuesday morning the negro took exception to the statement of Judge H. W. Kerr.

"When you argue with me you loose," the judge calmly told the colored man. "You are fined $5 and costs."

Other cases of public intoxication were: William Brown, fined $5 and costs; Frank McConnel, held under $25 bond for trial on Wednesday; Jack Van Alton, of Auburn; Rose Mahoney, Curtis Lucas and Jim Brown were released.

AUTO ON FIRE.

The automobile belonging to Raymond Hully was fired by an overheated exhaust pipe as the machine stood at the corner of Third and Sherman streets. Firemen were called to extinguish the blaze. Loss is set at $15.

BOBBY WALTHOUR INJURED.

Paris, Monday, Aug. 20.—The condition of "Bobby" Walthour, the American bicycle racer, whose skull was fractured by a fall from his machine in a race on Sunday, is unchanged.

YOUTH LACKS PEPPER, SAYS AGED PATRIOT

Ninety Year Old Woman Has One of Best Gardens in City.

Half hid among the tasseled corn and canopied by overhanging bows of many plum trees is the dwelling, which is little more than a shell and which houses one of Fort Wayne's best patriots. The sole occupant of the weather beaten cottage, which is minus several of its small window panes, is Sophia Tilton, aged ninety, widow of Josiah Tilton. The house is located far out on Spring street in the quiet valley which yet marks the end of the city's activities.

Surrounding the unpainted house on one side is one of the heartiest gardens in the region of Fort Wayne. Mrs. Tilton, a mite of a gray haired woman, eured the soil, planted the seed and as cared for the truck patch herself.

She has had no aid in her work since early June.

"It would be quite an example to the younger generation," said the reporter who attempted to convince the aged patriot that she should allow a picture of herself and her garden to be taken. She refused to pose for a picture.

"The young folks now days lack ambition," said the wrinkled little woman as she stood in the half opened door. She refused to accept any plaudits for the towering stalk of corn, or for the row upon row of flourishing beans or for the mild eyed astors which surround the house and soften its rough exterior.

"A person ought to be doing something all the time," explained the modest patriot.

When she refused to take credit for the well-trimmed plum trees, the fruit of which was fairly ripening in clusters in the summer sun and for the new made turnip patch, the reporter turned away.

Mrs. Tilton went back to her knitting, which she had dropped at the visitors knock, and resumed her rocking and stitching as the ladies did in the "days of the sweet long ago."

Rochester, Ind., Aug. 21.—A vain attempt was made here today to find Congressman H. A. Barnhart, of this city, now on the way home by motor with his son, Lieutenant Hugh Barnhart, from Washington, D. C. The house of the congressman's farm, a fourteen-room structure, was burned early Sunday, causing a loss of more than $4,000, which is about half covered by insurance.

The cause of the fire is a mystery. Abner McKay, the tenant, and his family, barely had time to escape when the fire was discovered, and saved only a few belongings. By strenuous work neighbors saved the nearby barn and other buildings, all full of crops.

ECKELS-BRONSON REUNION.

Kendallville, Ind., Aug. 21.—The annual reunion of the Eckels-Bronson families was held Sunday at the fair grounds in this city, when 115 members of the two families in this state and from Ohio assembled to participate in the annual affair. At noon the usual custom was followed and a picnic dinner was served. The officers elected follow: President, Prof. H. H. Whetzel, of Cornell University; vice president, Louis S. McInture, of Fort Wayne; secretary and treasurer, Miss Elizabeth Eckels, of Kendallville; historian, Miss Lela Eckels, of near this city. The next reunion will be held in August, 1918, at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McInture, four miles east of this city.

CROWD JEERS YELLOW FLAG.

Kendallville, Ind., Aug. 21.—Billy Mars, who calls himself the "human fly," refused to give a demonstration of his skill at Albion. Several thousand people assembled at the county seat to witness the feat and hear the band concert by the Kendallville City band. Several enthusiastic speeches for the boys' working reserve were made by citizens of Albion. Mars appeared on the street in his white uniform, ready for the climb, but when the time came, it was announced that the wonder had refused to climb. He was given a very unceremonious greeting and shouts of "The fake is yellow!" were heard throughout the crowd.

ANOTHER CALL FOR MEN.

Albion, Ind., Aug. 21.—According to T. A. Redmond, clerk of the conscription board, Noble county's quota of 43 men for the national army will be secured after examining 206 men. However, to play safe and save additional men ready for another call in the event men certified to the district board are exempted, the board has mailed notices to 80 more men to appear for examination next Thursday. The first fifty will appear at 8 a. m. at Albion and the remaining thirty at 1 p. m.

BLUFFTON MAN WELL BERTHERED.

Bluffton, Ind., Aug. 21.—Manson W. Reiff of this city, has been appointed assistant to Dr. Carl G. Winter, grand worthy president of the Eagles' lodge, and within the next few weeks he and Mrs. Reiff will move to Indianapolis, where his headquarters will be located. The position is an excellent one and Mr. Reiff will be in touch with the Eagles' lodges all over the United States. During the past year he has been state secretary of the order and also has been employed as an auditor for the grand lodge.

MUCH RED LIQUOR WASTED.

Hartford City, Ind., Aug. 21.—Liquor valued at $1,000, taken in a raid on the L. G. Williams home several months ago, and which had been stored in the court house, has been destroyed on orders of Mayor Secret. It was emptied into the grand jury room and emptied into the sink, whence it found its way into the sewers and into Little Lick creek. An attempt was made one night recently, by thirsty thieves to break into the court house, a window in the sheriff's office being broken.

DIED SUDDENLY.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 21.—Isaac Spangle, 81 years of age, residing about two miles west of Silver Lake, died at the camp grounds at Yellow Creek lake. While sitting at the table at the hotel he was suddenly stricken, and died in a few moments. The deceased leaves a son and two daughters.

When Child Begins to Mend Task is Hard

A child when very ill is usually so good that the mother and nurse have little to meet in the amusement problem, but when the days of convalescence come they are often at their wits end to know how to enforce the rule that is so necessary when the patient feels like getting up and tearing the earth to pieces.

This is a time when friends can help the mother.

One good friend who called herself "The Little Old Woman Who Lived Under the Hill" sent something every day to a convalescent child so it would arrive in the morning mail. It might be only a picture postcard with a message of good cheer or any was trinket, favor or small book, costing not over 5 or 10 cents, but it made the postman's visit a delight.

One may purchase wonder bells and surprise boxes or make them at home. Take odds and ends of yarn for the ball. At intervals wind in small packages holding articles like beauty pins, strings of beads, tiny penknives, a dainty handkerchief, a hair ribbon, a ring, any of the fascinating diminutive toys, such as figures of men, women, animals, wee dishes, teakettle, chattering dish, etc. In fact, everything imaginable may be found in the toy and favor department for these unending things. Then regulate the unwinding to say one object an hour, starting each time the clock strikes. The surprise box is made like a "Jack Horner" pie, with a ribbon to be pulled once a day or at whatever intervals seem best.

The main thing is to keep the child's mind filled with happy anticipations.

For this is an acknowledged fact that the

This Sport Skirt is Meant for Use

(By BETTY BROWN.)

New York—This sport skirt is meant for what its name implies—real sport use. It is exceedingly practical. It does not sacrifice any of the attractive lines of the sport skirt which are meant chiefly for show, but it is of serviceable cloth, with pockets, and reinforced about the belt to preserve its fit.

Mind has a great influence over the child's recovery. Fretting and worrying about getting up is the hardest thing to overcome when the evil consequences are not realized.

Make a bag of cretonne with drawstrings and hang at the top of the bed. In it place a supply of handkerchiefs, a pencil, a pad of paper and whatever treasures desired so they will be close at hand. Provide a sick bed table that will raise and lower to any desired height and swing into any position, also a tray with legs that fit over the bed standing steadily. This takes all weight off the little patient. One more thing makes for comfort and that is a hospital frame for the pillows, which may be raised and lowered. When the child sits up such games as "jackstraws," sliced bread and animals, puzzle pictures, all sorts of paper dolls, paper villages, etc., may be used.

When meals are served be sure to have surprises in way of china and a vase holding just a bud to make the tray attractive.

It takes the ingenuity and strategy of a general to engineer a sick child safely through a tedious convalescence, but it can be done by striving to give an air of mystery to the otherwise commonplace days.

Pectin in Fruit Juice is What Makes It Jelly

(The most noted and most quoted work on jelly making is a University of Illinois bulletin by Miss N. E. Goldthwaite. Both experienced housewives and beginners will appreciate the following excerpts from these authoritative pages.)

By N. E. GOLDTHWAITE.
Fruit juice consists largely of water in which are dissolved small amounts of flavoring materials, sugar, vegetable acids and a substance called pectin. The pectin is the essential jelly making substance. It is impossible to make jelly from a juice lacking pectin.

Presence of pectin can readily be ascertained by adding to a given volume of the hot cooked juice an equal amount of grain alcohol (90 to 95 per cent.), mixing thoroughly and cooling; if pectin is present a gelatinous mass will appear in the liquid.

Curiously enough, pectin frequently is not found in the juices of raw fruits. Yet the juices extracted by cooking are full of the substance. The best and most economical method of extracting juices from fruits is indicated; cook them.

If a very juicy fruit, as currants, raspberries and the like is being used, place the clean fruit in an enameled preserving kettle, and just enough water to prevent burning, cover, cook slowly stirring occasionally with a wood or silver spoon.

When the simmering point is reached, crush the fruit further with a well-soaked wooden masher, then continue heating until the whole mass is cooked through.

Transfer the hot mass to a sufficiently large piece of cheesecloth wrung out of hot water and let the juice drain into an earthenware receptacle. When fairly well drained, do not squeeze the pulp for a second quality of jelly, but until the cheesecloth, return pulp to the kettle, cover with water, stir, boil and drain again. Some fruits will show pectin even up to the fifth extraction, but usually a third extraction sufficiently exhausts the pectin.

To extract the juice from hard fruits, apple, quince and the like, wash the fruit, discard any unsound parts, cut into small sections (skins and seeds included) cover with water and proceed as in the case of very juicy fruits.

Assuming the juice has been obtained from a naturally good jelly making fruit, success or failure depends upon the proportion of sugar used. For most juices rich in pectin and fairly acidic, for the first extraction the correct proportion of sugar to juice by volume usually varies from three-fourths part to one part, or one to one. Currants and grapes usually demand one part sugar to one of juice, while three-fourths to one is likely to be correct for juices from

Great Prima Donna Makes War's Supreme Sacrifice, But Says Sons in Both Nations Must Do Their Duty to the Country That Claims Their Allegiance.

By HOWARD MANN.
(Staff Special.)

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 21.—Hundreds of thousands of American mothers are giving up their sons to help "keep the world safe for democracy," but few of them are facing the heart-breaking experience of Mme. Schumann-Heink, who is sending one of her sons to the American navy where he may have to fight against his brother in the German navy.

Two other sons and her son-in-law are in the draft age, and may be called to bear arms against their brother and other near relatives in the German and Austrian armies. The youngest son is not eligible to draft.

The daughter of an Austrian officer, with the traditions of generations of Teutonic militarists behind her, Mme. Schumann-Heink can look philosophically on the system which calls her sons to war; but the idea of sending one son to fight against the other is crushing her mother's heart.

"What do I think about having my sons fighting against each other—sometimes I dare not think of it, it is too terrible," she told me today. "If this were a case of defense, I would send them cheerfully, but to send them across the sea into the trenches, in wars that may never reach their destination—it is a crime.

"My oldest son, August, now a man in middle age, is in the German navy, when the United States declared war, his heart was torn for love of this country, but what was he to do? His duty was with the German navy, and his love for me and for his brothers had to take second place.

"My second son, Henry, is about to enter our navy. My son-in-law is in an aviation training camp. Their duty is here, and I would not have them shrink—but why cannot we leave Europe to settle its own quarrels?

"Perhaps I should not speak this way—but I am a woman and a mother, and I cannot help feeling this way about sending my boys to the front, perhaps to kill each other.

Mme. Schumann-Heink, whose sons may fight each other when American and German forces are actively engaged. Below, the oldest son, August, in the German navy, at right; top to bottom, Walter, Henry, enlisted in the United States navy, Ferdinand and George, in the uniform of a Calver cadet.

"It is all a great tragedy, but I suppose it is human nature for everyone to think his tragedy is the deepest. "It is the duty for August to fight for Germany. It is the duty for me and other sons to fight for the United States. None of them will fail. "Duty comes first—I learned that from my soldier father. But it is terrible"

LUNIGRAMS

HAT SPRINGS LEAK.
Perry, Vt.—Mrs. Richard Jenkins is under a doctor's care as the result of an accident with a patent hat her husband invented. The hat contained a cooling chamber of water mixed with a volatile gas. The chamber broke and the mixture, acting upon Mrs. Jenkins' face powder, produced a poisonous irritant which threatens her sight. Jenkins says the hat is all right, but that women who wear powder take their own chances.

DOG IS FAITHFUL.
Cecoda, Mich.—Bill Biggerstaff's pet fox dog is back. The last Bill saw of the dog was in December when he started a fox. He never was known to return without the fox before, sometimes being out as long as a week. But this time he came back in a baggage car crate with a note from a man near Grand Marais, 200 miles away, who found the dog there starving two weeks ago. Bill will send the dog on this winter after the same fox.

STEAL HARBOR BUOY.
Denton, Mo.—The schooner Pyramid nearly went on the rocks here this week because of the removal of the west harbor buoy. The buoy was an empty whisky barrel. The only way the life-saving crew can explain its theft is that it probably sprang a leak and became partly filled with water, causing some fisherman to believe it still contained whisky. He will be taught a lesson by the fact that he had his trouble for nothing.

SELF-POPPING CORN.
Arthur, Ia.—Jerry Fliske has made his fortune by out-Burbanking Burbank with the creation of a self-popping popcorn. He developed it by crossing common popcorn with red poppers, producing a latent heat. The corn, immediately upon being harvested, must be stored in a cellar or other cool place. When it is dry it will auto-

RUSSELL SAYS RUSSIA'S GREATEST PROBLEM IS TO OVERCOME WRECKAGE LEFT BY OLD REGIME

Worst Government on Earth
Had Mismanaged Matters
So Fearfully That Trans-
Siberian Railroad, for Instance, Could Do Only
One-Third of Its Normal
Work.

BY CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL
(Copyright, 1917, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

The Russians are fighting and struggling on toward an advanced and stable form of democratic government, but they still have the legs of the Old Man of the Sea around their necks. The remains of the seven times accursed old system still hamper them. They cannot the czar, but they couldn't can all of the vast swarm of evils that the czar style of government had nailed down upon them. Everything in the old autocratic government of Russia that wasn't done correctly was done stupidly and everything that wasn't stolen was hashed.

The government, good or bad, of a nation of 180,000,000 people stretched over a continent 6,000 miles wide, means a colossal machine—that is to say, offices and men at work in them. The revolution ousted the chief engineers of the Russian machine, but it couldn't possibly cut all the millions of cogs, wheels and pistons. Also, it could not possibly change at once the methods and plans by which these did, or were supposed to do, their work.

Worst Government on Earth. But it began to strip the cover from these methods and plans and revealed in detail what has been beyond doubt the very worst government ever known on this earth. Everything about it was done badly except the police job. When it came to watching, overhauling and terrorizing people, to spying, eavesdropping and muddling for pretexts to send men to jail or Siberia, there was efficiency to burn. Czarism was a world-beater at all that. But at carrying on the huge daily business of reasonable government it was dull, slow, lumbering, thumb-handed and half-witted. As a most monstrously wasteful and extravagant.

In the army, men in responsible positions stole the money appropriated for rifles and sent troops up to the firing line armed with nothing but sticks. They stole the money appropriated for artillery and left whole armies to be slaughtered by foes that had up-to-date equipment.

They grafted on every contrivance. They stole stores, supplies, boots and buttons. Their motto was, Anything that isn't Spiked Down and then Fetch the Crowbar to pry the Rest Loose.

They allowed traitors to bury in the earth the great guns that England sent to Russia's aid and German spies to overrun and poison every part of the service.

In the bureau large forces of men did little work and botched that little. Transportation System Broken Down.

Take, as one example of many, triumphs of mismanagement, the matter of transportation.

About one-half of the maddening problems that the provisional government steadfastly faces come from a broken down transportation system.

Broken down by the sheer incompetence of the czar's government.

When democracy came in it found the Trans-Siberian the main artery of the Russian railroad system, doing only one-third of its normal work because of the thick-headed or dishonest work of the old regime.

Equipment had not been maintained. The road was there, but it was woefully shy of cars and locomotives, and the old methods of operation lost one-half of the value of what rolling stock there was.

One direct result of all this was that while other parts of Russia ran over with food supplies Petrograd and Moscow were short of food. Another was that munitions and supplies absolutely required for military operations were hung up at the ports or the factories because there were no cars to load them in and no locomotives to haul them.

Surely the curse of God is upon autocracy and all its works! Surely it is the blight and plague of mankind, for surely nothing else leaves in its track a train of evils so great and terrible.

The democratic government of Russia came in to find itself all but overwhelmed with a situation the like of which had never confronted any other government in the world.

New Regime Meets Problems Skillfully. It had to fight a great and terrible war and at the same time it had to operate for the daily life of the nation a machine so rickety that it threatened every minute to fall in.

These appalling conditions it is meeting with courage and skill. Slowly, steadily, it is getting the better of them.

And here I point out one of the most interesting phases of the Russian story. You see men that have had very little experience in public affairs or perhaps none at all. Of a sudden this almost inconceivable job thrust upon them of changing over this enormous machine and they tackle it and get away with it, learning how as they go along!

Because they have an inspiration of an ideal, they have a vision, they see something to work for a million miles beyond and above the pay envelope or a place at a murderous monarch's table. They see the whole world lighted up for a new democracy if they can make democracy go in Russia and they work without sleep and defecate and weakness to make that vision real.

Every day things go better in Russia. These men are substituting order for slipshod and efficiency for a mad riot of blundering.

But they can't do it all at once. They can't wave a magic wand and exchange a punk old machine for a bright new one.

It is easy enough for people in other lands to ask why the Russians don't do this thing or don't do that.

Give them a chance and they will do whatever can be done by human agencies and do it well, because they are carried along to achievement by the greatest power in the world, which is the faith and feeling of democracy.

RECEPTION FOR NEW OFFICERS

University Club Plans Event at Country Club.

WILL BE FEATURED BY MILITARY ASPECT

Officers, Doctors and Those Who Did Not Get Straps Invited.

As a farewell from Fort Wayne to those who will represent the city on the fields of glory, the University club will give a reception and dance Thursday evening at the Country club to all men who attended the officers' reserve at Fort Harrison and have returned to this city awaiting orders to report for duty and all the doctors of the city who are members of the Fort Wayne hospital unit of the Red Cross.

A big time is being planned by the club for the young men with their recently won shoulder straps and doctors together with those who were less fortunate and did not receive commissions after having attended the camp for the prescribed length of time and their wives and sweethearts. It should prove to be a unique event in local social circles because of its being military in its character, something unusual heretofore in peace times inasmuch as military social occasions, particularly in this part of the country, have lately been rare.

Just what will be on the program, according to E. G. Hoffman, president of the University club, and J. J. Ritter, chairman of the committee in charge, cannot be definitely announced until arrangements are finally completed, but besides the dancing, there will be singing and some professional dancing which will lend interest to the occasion. A receiving line will be formed by the men in uniform during the evening so that everybody who attends the function will have the opportunity of meeting the young officers. Invitations are being sent out today and the committee wishes it announced that, as it has no way of knowing the names of men who did not receive commissions, that it is urged that they do not hesitate because they do not receive personal invitations. The whole affair, it is stated, will be strictly informal. A five-piece orchestra will furnish the music for the dance.

WOMAN HURT WHEN TAXI STRIKES AUTO

New Park Superintendent Has Part in Corner Smash.

Mrs. Louis Ginter, 346 East Main street, was seriously hurt when the taxi in which she was riding collided with the new park runabout at the corner of Wallace and Hanna streets, shortly after noon, Thursday. The woman was taken to her home where attention of a physician was needed. She is badly bruised about the chest and head.

Adolph Jaenicke, the new park superintendent, was driving the lately acquired park runabout, which engaged in the smash. He was crossing Hanna street going north. He was half way across the street when the taxi, coming at a high rate of speed, Jaenicke reports to police, struck the park machine.

Thaddeus Skeer, 19, 1327 West Main street, was piloting the jitney car. He was going at the rate of thirteen miles an hour, he was told. His machine struck the rear of the park car. The front wheel was broken and the radiator damaged on the taxi. The rear wheel was crushed on the park auto. Mrs. Ginter was hurled forward, striking her head and shoulders. Other participants in the crash were uninjured.

FRENCH EDITOR KILLED HIMSELF IS THE VERDICT

Paris, Aug. 21.—Miguel Almeréya, editor of the Bonnet Rouge, who had been arrested on a charge of sedition, committed suicide according to the report of three medical experts which was sent yesterday to Rene Viviani, minister of justice. M. Viviani's inquiry showed that Almeréya had tried to kill himself with his shoe laces. The head warden of the prison was degraded and transferred and two assistants were removed for leaving the shoe laces in the cell, contrary to prison regulations. The prison doctor was placed at the disposal of the military authorities for making a false report while the chief prison doctor was dismissed for accepting his subordinate's report without verifying it.

Almeréya was found dead in prison last Wednesday. His friends at first refused to admit the hypothesis of suicide but it gradually became evident that he had strangled himself with a pair of shoe laces.

SPRING WATER WILL FLOW IN CITY LINES

Plan to Tap Swinney Park Fountain for Public Use.

The spring water from the Swinney park well will soon be flowing through the city water mains, according to the plan now being prepared by city officials.

The well will be tapped for adding especially to the water supply of the west end of Fort Wayne. Present park use of the fountain will not be impaired by the improvement, as it is planned to arrange for more drinking fountains about the well than are now in service.

Mayor W. J. Hosey and members of the board of works visited the park Tuesday morning with the view of making definite plans for utilizing the spring water. They expect to lift the water by an underground motor. The new water source will add a half million gallons of water a day to the present city supply. It is estimated that less than $5,000 will be necessary for installing the apparatus which will give the city a supply of the purest spring water in this section of the state.

SUBWAY ASSURED.

No Remonstrance Entered Against Sherman Street Project.

The Sherman street subway is now a surety. Work of building the track elevation above the street will start on October 22, according to the order of the board of works.

No remonstrances were filed against the proposed improvement when the board met Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock to consider the resolution for placing the elevated railroad crossing. The steel bridge and tunneled street will cost about $60,000. The city of Fort Wayne will pay about $12,000 of that amount.

SAVES MUCH LABOR.

Invention of Local Man Speeds Concrete Laying by One-Third.

Fifteen men are now laying 14,000 square yards of concrete per day for the Grace Construction company. It is an efficiency record which no other street paving corporation in the state is believed to be equaling.

One of the latest helps to the speeding up program of the Grace company is an invention by Ross Louthan, superintendent of construction. Louthan has prepared a device which enables crushed rock to be dumped from the rear of the motor trucks into the concrete mixer. The new shoot does away with the work of fifteen laborers and doubles the speed of a part of the cement making process.

The new boon to the concrete paving business is a narrow shoot which is attached to the rear of the big motor trucks. Mr. Louthan has constructed the conveyor so that the crushed rock is fed into the revolving mixture at just the right rate of speed. The clever arrangement has been pronounced to be one of the best of the late construction tool inventions by City Engineer Randall, who has been watching the attachment at work.

MAY OUT BUDGET.

Meeting for Tuesday Night is One of Potentials.

What the council body, assembled as a committee of the whole, will do on Tuesday night is a quandary. Council members admit that they do not know what will be the outcome of the session.

The meeting will be in the form of a consultation about the form of the city budget for 1918. An operation will be recommended by a part of the council, it is stated at this time. Removal of a part of the expense measures will be advised by at least a part of the council members.

Some of the ward representatives will ask that the request for six more fire alarm buildings remain only a plan. The council is divided for next year. If it is decided to keep the levy within the present bounds there will be extensive cutting at the figured budget form.

TO PAVE NEXT YEAR.

No Remonstrances Filed Against Boulevard Improvement.

Anthony boulevard will be paved from Lake avenue to State boulevard next year, it was determined by the park board Monday afternoon. No remonstrances were presented against the proposed improvement. The paving work is held up because the water works department announces that piping cannot be obtained for laying under the street before next spring.

Work of repairing the main driveway in Swinney park will start at once. Park Superintendent Jaenicke has obtained the use of the county scarifier and ten-ton roller for carrying on the work. The drive will be properly crowned and rolled and then oiled.

CASE OF SMALLPOX.

The first case of smallpox to be reported to the health department in several weeks was recorded on Tuesday. The victim is Henry Graff, 35, 320 Dalman street. Bernard Assie, 10, 2336 Chestnut street, has diphtheria.

Grade Helen Street.

The city engineer was ordered to prepare plans for the grading of Helen street, from Hanna street to Lafayette street, by the board of works Monday afternoon.

The New York Central railroad has notified the city engineer and members of the board of works that the bridges will be completed over the Ossage street subway by November 1.

Grading of Wall street, preparatory to paving, was started by the Moellering Construction company Tuesday morning. The big steam shovel began operations at College avenue and will move west.

TAPS SOUND FOR VETERAN

Charles Ehrman, Pioneer Wagonmaker Answers Death Summons.

WAS IN BUSINESS OVER FORTY YEARS

Was Father of Family of Fourteen Children of Which Eight Survive.

Charles Ehrman, veteran of the civil war and a pioneer wagon maker and blacksmith of Fort Wayne, passed away at his home, 1321 West Jefferson street, at 11:10 o'clock Tuesday morning. He was seventy-five years of age and had led a retired life for the past ten years.

Mr. Ehrman had been confined to his bed since last February 12, when he was taken seriously ill with an attack of Bright's disease. His condition had been such during the past week that death had been expected by the members of his immediate family. The deceased was born in Bavaria, Germany, July 21, 1842, but came to America and immediately to Fort Wayne with his parents in 1852. Prior to the war of the rebellion, Mr. Ehrman learned the blacksmith trade, but on August 16, 1862, enlisted as a member of Company K, 89th Indiana regiment, and was mustered out of the service at Mobile on July 22, 1865.

On January 21, 1867, he was united in marriage to Miss Mary Lahmeyer, who survives him. This union was blessed with fourteen children, eight of whom survive him.

Upon his return from the civil war after he was honorably discharged, Mr. Ehrman went into the business of making wagons. He conducted his wagon shop and blacksmith shop at West Main and Fulton streets for forty years. In this capacity he became widely known in this section of the country.

He was a member of Harmony lodge No. 19, I. O. O. F., of the G. A. R., and also of the St. John German Reformed church of this city.

Several years ago Mr. Ehrman's eyesight became impaired and for a long time previous to his death he was totally blind. However, he maintained his faculties wonderfully and was at all times able to converse on subjects of the day with his wonted fluency and intelligence.

Before he became blind Mr. Ehrman was a great reader and in his late years he would have his children and friends read to him, after which he would enter into lengthy discussions. He was interested in the war situation of the day and invariably would tell of incidents as they transpired during the civil war.

In addition to the hundreds of friends and acquaintances and the following children, all of Fort Wayne: Mrs. Henry Wegmann, Mrs. Charles Brain, Mrs. Fred Bolde, Mrs. Clara Ehrman and Herman, Fred, Herbert and Walter Ehrman. There are also nine grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Herman Michaels, also of Fort Wayne.

City Boards Are Nearing Completion of Three Weeks' Grind.

FINISH EXAMINATION OF MEN IN THE CITY

Country Board Will Not Be Finished for Several More Days.

All three boards in the city who have had the work of examining men for the conscript army on their hands have finished their work and all will be ready in a few days to announce the men who will make up Fort Wayne's army. When the list is made, the men in order of their liability for service will be included.

The list must be made in this manner to determine the first 30 per cent who will leave the city on September 5.

The boards of the first district finished its work of examining men Monday evening. This board will meet Tuesday evening to pass upon the claims for exemption. The boards in the second and third district have nearly completed this part of their work.

The county district board, however, will not conclude its examination of men until Thursday or Friday. The members of the board express hope that out of this number they will be able to secure their quota. However, Tuesday morning only one man out of the number who passed the examination waived exemption.

The board at district three called in approximately twenty men Monday evening and conducted an oral examination on several claims for exemption. This will be continued Tuesday evening.

ROAMED AROUND TOO MUCH DURING NIGHT

Esther Steinbacher Says Edward is Also a Wife Beater.

"None of your business," to which undoubtedly were added some words of profanity, is the answer Esther Steinbacher said she would get when she would ask Edward where he had been when he came home late at night. She is suing him for divorce.

According to the complaint, Edward would also take it upon himself at times to seriously beat the plaintiff and would also use profane language in the presence of a child. The plaintiff states that they were married April 15, 1911, during which time the defendant has failed to adequately provide, although he is said to make $100 a month at the Pennsylvania company.

In addition to the decree and the custody of the child, the plaintiff asks that the Pennsylvania company be enjoined from paying the defendant his wages and also the First and Hamilton National bank, restraining them from paying him the money he has there on deposit.

League Leaders Win and Make Season's Last Appearance

Chiefs Get More Hits But Not at the Right Time.

In a game featured by free hitting on both sides, Fort Wayne lost the last of the series and the last game on the local lot with Grand Rapids Monday, 4 to 2. Fort Wayne had the better of the hitting contest, getting ten hits off Meltzer, while the best that the Michiganders could do was to get nine off Kowalski. Grand Rapids' hits, however, came when hits meant runs.

It was the last chance that local ball fans had to see the winners of the 1917 Central league gonfalon in action—that is the winners—unless they get into a train wreck or some calamity overtakes them. Edgington started the scoring Monday when he landed on one of Kowalski's offerings in the second inning for a circuit smash which landed over in Clinton street. There was no one on ahead of him and the next three batters were disposed of in good order. The visitors scored again in the fifth. Jantzen flew out to Hoffman. Lee Tannehill, the old White Sox star and for many years in the majors, connected with one of Kowalski's shots for a clean single. Meltzer sacrificed, advancing Tannehill, who scored on Mitchell's two-bagger. Carey ended the scoring by flying out to Seigfried.

The Wolverines were due to get another run across before the Chiefs could get started in the scoring line. In the sixth Mathes singled and took second. He went to third on Edgington's out and counted when Aleck flew out to deep center, beating the throw in. The Chiefs got two runs in the seventh and added some interest to the affair. Smith batted one past Meltzer and got on. Seigfried doubled after Hoffman flew out to Mathes. Kelly's drive over short brought both men in. Kelly was out trying to steal second. Glickson was out, short to first.

The final run of the game was made in the ninth. Aleck singled. Miller beat out a bunt. Jantzen got a scratch hit, filling the bags. Aleck scored on a play trying to catch the runner off second.

Second Baseman Carey was seriously injured in sliding into home plate in the eighth inning. His ankle turned, causing an injury which it is likely will keep him out of the Grand Rapids lineup for the rest of the season. This will undoubtedly weaken the club and lessen materially the chances of the Michigan club to finish the season in as fast a pace as they have been going, although it does not appear that they can lose in the race for the flag.

CHICAGO OVERTURE BIG TRAP EVENT

Chicago, Aug. 21.—Chief events on the program of the grand American handicap tournament today were the Chicago overture, open to amateurs only at 100 targets from the sixteen yard line; the national championship in doubles, and the national amateur championship at single targets.

In the South Shore introductory event yesterday, Frank Troeh, of Vancouver, Wash., made a new record when he broke 199 targets out of a possible 200, shooting from the eighteen yard line. Troeh missed his ninety-second target and then finished with a straight run of 108. His nearest competitor was J. E. Pettit, of Arkansas, with 198.

Frank Baker, of the Yankees, who is having one of his best years. He is batting around the .300 mark.

ELIONSKY, "THE MAN WHO CAN'T BE DROWNED," SWIMS FIVE MILES WHILE BOUND TO A CHAIR

(By Paul Furem.)

No, it isn't a scene taken from the movie showing the villain doing dirt to our hero. It's just a picture of Henry Elionsky, distance swimmer, starting out on one of his famous swimming stunts. Bound securely to a chair, with neither arms nor legs free Elionsky was thrown into the water at Bay Ridge, Brooklyn, and propelled himself to the battery, New York, five miles away, making the distance in three hours and twenty minutes, remarkable time, considering the conditions.

Elionsky has performed many remarkable feats under the most adverse conditions. Towing loaded boats against tidewater, with his feet and one hand tied in padlocks for him, and some of his feats have caused him to be called "the man who can't be drowned."

JACKSON PULLS TY COBB STUNT MAKING SINGLE OUT OF DOUBLE

Transfers from one club to another sometimes does a player a world of good. Changes in environment making playing conditions more pleasant probably have a great deal to do with this.

Take Joe Jackson for instance. Jackson has always been a great natural fielder, but until the last year has never been able to get all out of his fielding he should.

A recent game at Cleveland shows how Jackson has improved in this respect. Chapman, a fast base runner, was on second and Ro's on first. Elmer Smith was at bat. Smith drove a hit into right field which under ordinary conditions would have been a double and should have scored both base runners.

But Jackson pulled a regular Ty Cobb stunt, outguessing the base runner. He backed into the fence and waited for the ball. Chapman and Roth figured it would be an out and held their bases, waiting to advance after the catch.

The ball struck the wall at least ten feet above Jackson's head, and Jackson recovered and threw to the plate, heading off the run from second.

It was a plain case of pinch judgment, but it is a safe bet that Jackson would never have pulled the trick two years ago.

UPSETS IN FIRST ROUNDS OF PLAY

Veteran Furnishes Surprise by Winning in Two Sessions.

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 21.—Surprising upsets in the first two rounds of play in the national patriotic singles tournament added interest when the tournament continued today on the courts of the West Side club. Holcomb Ward, the veteran, who furnished the unexpected yesterday by defeating S. H. Voshell, of Brooklyn, and H. S. Parker, of Cedarhurst, meets N. W. Miles, of Boston.

Craig Bidale, of Philadelphia, and Charles H. Garland, the Pittsburgh youngster, play Dean Mathey and Douglas Waters, the latter of New Orleans. R. L. Murray, Clarence J. Griffin and J. H. Strachan, the westerners, are not expected to encounter much opposition in their matches.

COL. FOSTER TO GRAND RAPIDS.

Col. D. N. Foster will go to Grand Rapids tomorrow to be the guest of E. A. Stowe at a reunion of former newspapermen. Mr. Stowe is now editor and publisher of the Michigan Tradesman and when a boy sold the Saturday Evening Post with Col. Foster in Grand Rapids.

There seems to be a lot of perfect physical specimens in the country. Paddy Driscoll is the latest an S. S. examining surgeon reports.

Fletcher is the latest Giant to get into a fist fight. You can't belong to that club unless you slug someone once in a while. Jack Dillon is to box in Terre Haute Labor day. Thought we had heard Jack had enlisted in the navy a month or so ago.

"Red Sox will bust on the stretch," comments a content. About the same prediction was made about the same time last year. Well, the checker championship has been decided, removing another great worry from our dome.

Two maulers are to tussle for the lightweight championship of the world. The dispatch didn't say, but they probably also tussle for a 60-40 split on a 10-cent purse.

Bad Weather Threatens Start of State Tennis Tournament

May Interfere With Play in First Round Today.

MORNING SCHEDULE.

H. Stephens vs. Van A. Barnett, court 1.

William Plogterth vs. Reginald Barnard, court 2.

(The winners will play each other on court 1 at 2 o'clock.)

L. Wooding and Theodore Schroeder, R. C. Bastien vs. Onslow Orr, court 3 at 2 o'clock.

With lowering skies and the atmospheric pressure indicating rain, the chances for the play in the first round of the Indiana State Patriotic Tennis tournament at the Fort Wayne Country club Tuesday, were not particularly encouraging. Dr. Charles D. Humes, of Indianapolis, who is widely known as an expert on the net game, both as a player and referee, was scheduled to officiate in all matches played in the state tournament.

No prizes, it is announced, will be given out this year by the winners in either singles or doubles inasmuch as the play is for the benefit of the Red Cross. Following the lead of the United States National Lawn Tennis association no cups will be given out but the winners will be generally recognized as the state champion or champions. The entry fees, which have been set at $2.50 for the singles and $2.00 for the doubles, will in the aggregate make a neat sum to turn over to the Red Cross, it is thought.

The official entry list: Lester Ortleb, James Harris, George Balhe, William C. O'Rourke, L. Wooding, Theodore Schroeder, C. S. Moll, Theodore Fischer, Van A. Barnett, L. S. Baker, H. Stephens, Ewing Bond, Earl Wooding, George Gawehn, Eric Gawehn, J. Carver, Onslow Orr, William Plogterth, William Berghoe and John Berghoe, of Fort Wayne.

Gage Hoag, Dr. Charles D. Humes, James McKay, Fred Appel, Miss Helen Beck and R. C. Bastien, of Indianapolis.

Clair Sett, Russell Bixel and John Bixel, of Bluffton, Ohio.

Jack Southerland, of Cleveland.

More New Fall Suits and Dresses

For Women and Misses

Direct from the foremost makers of New York—portraying the very latest, authentic style ideas which are to be favored for Fall. Many of the Dresses are clever adaptations from the newest Parisian modes, but the Suits demonstrate in a remarkable degree the resourcefulness and genius of American designers when put to the test.

In the creation of Suit styles, America has been independent and self-supporting for some time, for the reason that a suit is a "fitting" garment and French Suits never could fit American women.

The American Suit creator who first realized this truth and began to advocate American fashions for American women has produced a remarkable collection of Fall models which we are showing under the name of

Patria Suits—

There is an individuality and personality in these Suits to be found in no others. Under the present stress of national consciousness, you will be proud to wear a Patria Suit. Come in and try one on.

You can anticipate the greatest pleasure in slipping into one of these new Suits and noting the new effects—the longer Coat lengths—the uneven hems—the new closely fitting sleeves and military shoulders—new collar effects—new colorings—new cloths—but—velvet and rich fur trimmings—moderate prices.

Come in and try on one of these Suits, Coats, Dresses, Skirts or Waists and note how distinctly different they are in every detail from the ordinary. You will be pleased to see that they are made as they ought to be made, to fit large women, and at the same time retain all the smartness and feminine charm of style and grace that you would expect to find only in the regular small sizes.

BUSINESS MAN

GREATLY BENEFITED

E. J. WEHRMEYER, PROMINENT WAYNE STREET JEWELER, MAKES STATEMENT.

GIVES CREDIT TO IRONATED HERBS WITH PEPSIN.

No new article of the times has created such profound interest especially in the larger cities, as has the introduction of Ironated Herbs with Pepsin (in liquid form). People in all walks of life have been attracted to it; the statesman, the professional man, the mechanic, financier, lawyer, preacher, bookkeeper, farmer, brakeman, society woman, waitress—they all have tested it and permitted the use of their names in telling of it.

Every day local people are coming forward with signed statements, telling of the great benefits they have derived from the use of Ironated Herbs. E. J. Wehrmeyer, whose place of business and residence are at 111 West Wayne street, was added to the ever increasing stream of voluntary recommendations.

Mr. Wehrmeyer conducts a jewelry store on Wayne street and is regarded as an authority on diamonds and jewelry in general.

His progressive business methods have made friends of his customers for him, and it is extremely gratifying to receive the signed endorsement of such men as Mr. Wehrmeyer.

"I saw this Ironated Herbs medicine advertised and heard of the good it was doing for people in a run-down condition, so I bought a bottle and began taking it. I feel a whole lot better now. My appetite has increased and my food tastes natural again. I suffered with gas on stomach after eating. Am happy to say after taking Ironated Herbs it has entirely disappeared. I sleep better and have new strength and energy. My improvement has been so marked that friends ask what I have been taking. I am a great believer in iron for the nerves and blood, and find this organic iron in liquid form acts quicker than any I have ever taken. My digestion is better and I do not feel uncomfortable after eating like I used to. Ironated Herbs, in my opinion, is a great medicine, and I think it will do as much for others in my condition as it has done for me."

Concentrated pepsin in Ironated Herbs, the king of digestive agents, working in harmony with the natural gastric juices of the stomach, causes my food to be digested properly with the result that muscular development is rapidly acquired.

Organic iron is the making of thick red blood and also gives strength to the nerves. Pepsin in concentrated form, dissolves, digests and assimilates the food and the potent herbal extracts destroy and eliminate poisons from the system.

Our demonstrator will gladly explain to you its merits and supply you with a bottle at Meyer Bros' drug store, 902 Calhoun street, Fort Wayne. It is also sold in all Meyer Bros' other Fort Wayne stores; at Bluffton by Davenport & Ehler; Huntington, A. C. Beckstein; Roanoke, Hackett & Sons; New Haven, H. E. BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA CAN HELP WIN WAR BY FOLLOWING EXAMPLES OF BRITISH COMRADES

Young Johnny Bull is Setting Fast Pace for His Young American Cousin in Khaki and Master Scout of Boes War Experience, the Hero of Mafeking, Tells How It Is.

BY KENNETH W. PAYNE.
(Staff Correspondence.)
London, England, Aug. 21.—Boys here's a special dispatch from the world's war center meant just for you—for every Fort Wayne youngster who wants to help Uncle Sam win the war.

Lieut.-Gen. Sir Baden-Powell, founder and chief of nearly 300,000 boy scouts in the British empire, has given me this message for you.

To begin with, this war is really your war. Your fathers and uncles and big brothers are coming here to fight and die for your sakes. They want you, when you grow up, to be able to live in a world which is happy and safe. They don't want you or your children ever again to have to go into the trenches and be killed.

And they know the world will never be safe for you until the Kaiser's army is beaten. Because they are fighting for you, you will want to help them beat that army.

Since the war broke out the boys of Great Britain have been helping. Sir Robert Baden-Powell showed them how.

"There is hardly anything the boy scouts haven't done."

"The day war broke out we had more than a thousand scouts mobilized for maneuvers. And from mere play, they went into the coast patrol in real earnest. The government was glad to get them and their services were so valuable that today about 1,600 of our sea scouts are on daily coast guard duty."

"A tremendous lot has entered the home are accomplishing marvelous things.

"After an air raid the boy scouts help clear the bombed areas, work with the wounded and handle the crowds. The London police have 1,900 boy scout orderlies.

"In a recent air raid I was riding in a train which was hit. I escaped injury and when I turned to help another man who had been badly wounded, I found a boy scout already there ahead of me, giving first aid.

"When the war broke out, Germans in this country sought to destroy culverts, bridges, electric light wires or cables. The boy scouts were on the job so quickly practically no destruction was accomplished.

"That is the best message I can send to the boy scouts of America.

"Know what to do, know how to do it, and be ready to do it."

THREE SONS GIVEN TO SERVICE OF COUNTRY

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Johnson, of Antwerp, Have Trio of Boys in the Army.

Antwerp, O., Aug. 21.—Not often does it occur that parents are asked to give three sons to our country's service, but this has occurred here. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Johnson are the parents of three boys, all of whom have signed up to do their bit. Frederick, Thomas and Charles, aged respectively 35, 29 and 25 years. Fred and Charles are but recently returned from Korea, Asia, where they were employed for a number of years in a mine owned by a big French syndicate. Fred also being a stockholder, and sold his holdings for something like $30,000, and the boys concluded to return home, arriving in America just in time to become enthusiastic in Uncle Sam's cause. Fred desired to join the aviation section, but for some reason gave it up and joined the ambulance corps, as did his brother, Charles. Thomas is a telegrapher in the employ of the Wash-bash railway and has not yet been assigned to duty. There are but five children in the family, three boys and two girls, one of them married to H. K. Harris, cashier of the Antwerp Exchange bank. Flossie, the youngest, being yet at home. Since the arrival home of Fred and Charles, the family has been reunited, and the boys are very happy until the war clouds began to darken. Their parents are patriotic, and yet while they regret that the boys must go to the defense of the honor of our country, they bid them do their duty. The boys are at Camp Perry now and expect to go with the "Rainbow Division" to France in a short time. They have a legion of friends here that wish them good luck and a safe return.

Antwerp Minor Notes.
Miss Gertrude Banks, stenographer in the offices of the E. H. Close Realty company, at Toledo, is expected home today to spend a two weeks' vacation, the first she has enjoyed in two years' service with this company. She will get acquainted again with her parents, T. C. Banks and wife, whose guest she will be during this time.

Much preparation is being made for the chautauqua that begins here Thursday. The town wears a festive appearance, the streets being festooned with bright colored banners advertising the event, and everybody is up on their toes in anticipation of a week of good entertainment.

Donald Hudson and Paul Reeb, accompanied by lady friends, were caught in an automobile accident Saturday evening, that resulted very fortunately for the occupants of the machine. When speeding along the highway near Harlan, Ind., the machine took a notion to do a flip-flop. It accomplished it in good form, but became a wreck in the attempt. The auto was a rented one, belonging to Isaac Boice of this place, and will require quite a number of "iron men" to get it doctored in shape again. The lucky part of the smashup is—no one was hurt.

Mrs. R. J. Coats was a passenger to Fort Wayne, Saturday, from there going to Lafayette, Ind., where she will visit relatives for a short time. Porter Hawkins and Albert A. Griggs of Antwerp, were members of Company B to be selected to go with the

BUTTON OR NO BUTTONS? THAT'S BLOUSE QUESTION

Two interesting novelties are the blouse with the buttons in the back and the blouse that has no buttons at all. Which one you choose depends upon how well your husband is trained to button you up and how carefully he does it. The buttonless model to which we refer has a surprise flitch which clasps with a brooch.

The lingerie idea has even invaded the territory of the pelum, and we observe some stunning waists of marquisette and voile that slip over the head and extend almost to the line of the knees.

MOVIES A SUCCESS IN WAR PROPAGANDA

Two Millions of Indiana People Already Have Seen Pictures.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 21.—More than 2,000,000 Indiana movie picture show patrons have been reached, to date, in the educational campaign being conducted by Indiana exhibitors, in support of war preparation.

This fact is brought out in reports made to Frank J. Rembusch, temporary chairman of the organization committee of the American Exhibitors' association, who is in charge of the Indiana campaign.

Mr. Rembusch was appointed director of the propaganda in Indiana by William A. Brady, of New York, who was placed in charge of the nationwide campaign by the council of national defense.

Special emphasis was given in the Indiana movies to the conservation of man-power propaganda, which is in the promotion of the United States Boys' Working Reserve, directed by Isaac D. Straus, of Ligonier.

The exhibitors are financing these displays themselves. It costs about $300 every time a set of slides is shown, so the magnitude of the patriotic contribution they are making, is apparent.

DELIGHT DANCE LOVERS.

Marmoon Sisters Rare Exponents of Classic Dancing.

The two American girls, the Marmoon Sisters, are proving a rare delight to the lovers of the best school of classic dancing in their interpretive numbers at the New Palace. These girls who have earned the plaudits of the dance critics from coast to coast, present their several dances with that finish and polish that make so much for success in vaudeville. Of course, the big bang-up act on the bill is the medley of syncopated songs and jazz instrumental numbers done by the Tennessee Ten, a romping group of ten darkies who can rag it quite as well as they can harmonize. It is a high speed bit of riotous fun set to music that leaves everyone laughing.

Demarest and Collette have just enough serious music to make the nut comedy of the male end of this team all the more amusing. The girl is a charming bit of femininity with a wealth of raven black hair that would make a movie queen turn green with envy, while Demarest's acrobatic absurdities and his foolish observations and still more ludicrous facial expressions bring laugh after laugh. W. S. Harvey and Miss Madge Anderson open the bill with some startling heavy weight juggling. Burnham and Yant, a nifty singing pair, have a novelty song turn, in which Miss Burnham uses her splendidly flexible double voice to good advantage. Dorothy Kenton with her singing banjo, completes this bill.

FAVORITE FILM FEATURES.

Twice a Week, Wednesday and Thursday, You Will See Them.

The Grand theater has arranged booking for each Wednesday and Thursday on the "Favorite Film Features," the new unit of the Vitaphone productions.

These features, selected from the best pictures in the Vitaphone library, were favorites two, three or four years ago and the players who appear in them are among the greatest on the screen today.

In every picture, whether it be comedy or drama, appear a number of the greatest stars known to picturedom then or now, names which have the greatest of box-office value. None of them are players without reputations who need reams of publicity and personal advertising to put them across, but these stars are known the length and breadth of this continent. Their names have been by-words with motion picture patrons for years and the pictures in which they appeared while under the Vitaphone standard are among the very best ever released.

Certainly there can be no more valuable stars than such names as Clara Kimball Young, Edith Storey, Sidney Drew, John Bunny, Norma Talmadge, Kate Price, Wallis Van, Ralph Ince and Rosemary Theby, and these are but a few of the famous whose followers are legion.

They were first put on the market on July 23 and the intention is to release them in three reels weekly hereafter, the program being made up of a two-reel drama and a one-reel comedy or vice versa. For instance, the program for Wednesday and Thursday will be "The Test," a two-reel drama in which Clara Kimball Young and Earl Williams are featured; also a one reel comedy, "The Late Mr. Jones," featuring Sidney Drew. The management of the Grand has arranged booking for six weeks in advance and each Wednesday and Thursday some of the above stars will appear on the program. Also arrangements have been completed to begin a new serial entitled "The Fighting Trail" Watch for the date.

SALOONS MUST BE LIKE SODA STORES

Chief Lenz Rings Knell on Days of the Old Rough Stuff.

No more of the "ruff stuff" goes around Fort Wayne saloons. None of the happy choruses, none of the clinking to the bar top for a now start and none of the telling the bartender where he belongs will be tolerated by Police Chief Lenz from now on. A strict police order has been given out by the chief because he states that he found the laws were being extensively violated when he visited a number of liquor emporiums Saturday night.

The new order which was read to all patrolmen, Monday night, is as follows: "From information received and from my own observation I am convinced a great many saloonkeepers are still selling liquor to minors and parties under the influence of liquor and by so doing violating the liquor laws of the state of Indiana. In a great many places saloonkeepers allow cursing, loud and profane language. Men under the influence of liquor are found lounging on chairs and tables.

"This must all be stopped at once, and anyone found, from this date, in or around any saloon in the foregoing condition or cursing, swearing and using loud and profane language will be taken out of said saloon and locked up. An affidavit will be filed against the saloonkeeper for allowing conditions of this kind to exist in his place of business. Saloons must be run in the right manner from this date and strictly in accordance with the law.

MAY BE PROTEST OVER LAST GAME OF DOUBLE BILL

Chicago, Aug. 21.—There may be a protest over the second game of yesterday's double-header between the Boston and Chicago teams of the American League.

President Comiskey, of the locals, will decide this after a conference with Manager Rowland. The first game was interrupted by rain. The second did not begin until 4:01 o'clock. The sun set at 6:44. In this arises the point of possible protest, for the league rules are said to set forth that all contests shall begin two hours before sunset.

This game went eight innings and resulted 3 to 1 in favor of the visitors. The splitting of the double-header left the standing unchanged. More rain fell last night and the sky was overcast this forenoon. It was predicted that Williams would pitch for Chicago this afternoon and Leonard for Boston.

The new Packard twin six is here. See it on exhibition at Stults Motor Co., 225 West Main street.

The German report says, had to be wrested at the cost of sanguinary losses. In bitter hand to hand fighting and by counter attacks the French were driven back almost everywhere.

FRENCH REJOICE

Paris, Aug. 21.—Yesterday's victory of the French on the Verdun front was welcomed by the French people not only because after it the Germans no longer hold one of their dearly bought conquests won since the first rush on the Verdun fortress in Feb. 1916, but as proof that the unity of action among the entente allies is at work.

The British, Italian and French fronts are all active at the same time making it possible that weakness may develop somewhere along the German and Austrian lines confronting them. The Figaro, however, warns its readers against expecting too much.

It is admitted in military circles that an offensive with a three days preliminary bombardment cannot be a surprise. The German press has shown for ten days that the present attack had been expected, even the exact extent of the front from Avocourt wood to Ormes being stated.

The precise minute when a bombardment will cease or rather change to a barrage fire cutting off the first stages of the infantry rush, however, remains a secret.

Thus the Germans were surprised at 4:40 o'clock yesterday morning when the French made a bound along some fifteen miles of front and it was twelve good minutes before the German barrage fire opened.

This delay allowed the French to occupy the first German lines without losses. They were found to be almost empty at one point. Only on the slopes of Talu hill did a single company succeed in holding out in a subterranean stronghold. With its young second lieutenant as the only officer, the entire company was taken prisoner.

By 6 o'clock a French aviator returned and dropped a sketch of Le Mort Homme market with arrows showing the positions occupied. An hour later a home pigeon brought news that hill 344 and Le Mort Homme on the left bank of the Meuse, and that hill 344 on the right bank, had been occupied. The Germans used only asphyxiating shells for their barrage fire thus placing the French troops under the handicap of wearing masks.

HIT RUMANIAN FRONT.

Petrograd, Aug. 21.—Austro-German forces are making vigorous attacks on the southern Rumanian front. The war office announcement of today says that stubborn resistance is being offered by the Russians and Rumanians who, however, were forced back at several points. On the Caucasian front where the Russians recently took the offensive, a further large advance has been made, a series of villages being captured.

GERMANS BEATEN BACK.

Paris, Aug. 21.—Counter attacks of extreme violence were made by the Germans last night in an effort to recapture positions taken in the French offensive on the Verdun front. The war office announces that the Germans were beaten back with heavy losses. The number of prisoners now exceeds five thousand.

The German attacks were especially severe at Avocourt wood and north of Caurelles. Attacks also were made by the Germans without success on the Alsace front near Cerny and Hurlbise.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY'S WAR NEWS

Last night and the new French lines stood firm in the face of counter-attacks of extreme violence. On the front north of Verdun, especially at Avocourt woods and north of Caurelles, the fighting was particularly severe. The Germans, beaten back, met with heavy losses. The number of prisoners taken by the French now exceeds 5,000.

The Germans also returned to the attack on the Alsace front striking at Cerny and Hurlbise. Paris reports the repulse of these assaults.

On the British front the Germans last night made their third attempt to recapture positions recently wrested from them near Ephepy, northwest of St. Quentin. A determined attack was made in which the German employed flame throwers but they were repulsed completely by the British, who held their positions.

Heavy fighting continues on the southern Rumanian front. The Russians and Rumanians are offering stiff resistance but Petrograd reports officially they have been forced back further at several points. German troops have reached the outskirts of Ocna, 75 miles west of the provisional Rumanian capital, Jassy. In the direction of Fokshani, the Germans took the offensive along the railroad advancing on both sides of it. A counter attack west of the railway resulted in restoration of the Russo-Rumanian positions.

On the northern Russian front increasing activity is reported. The Germans are bombarding heavily the Russian trenches west of the Riga, Mitau railway. The Russian offensive on the Caucasian front has resulted in the capture of several villages.

The Turks made an attack in the direction of Kharpout and gained initial success but subsequently were expelled from the captured positions. British aviators who have been making frequent attacks in Belgium, carried out another bombing expedition Sunday night. They dropped many tons of explosives on military objectives, the British admiralty reports. All the airplanes returned safely.

After considerable discussion the invitation was accepted.

"It is a part of the history of all great wars that wealth has demanded the minimum of taxation and the maximum of loans, while the poorer classes have desired the maximum of taxation and the minimum of loans and this difference is accentuated now since war profits and excessive incomes are being forced by taxation to contribute some portion of that revenue which war makes it necessary to raise."

"Wealth has never yet sacrificed itself to the altar of patriotism in any war," he continued. "On the contrary, it has ever shown itself eager to take advantage of the misfortune which war always brings to the masses of the people. That has been true of every war we have had and it is certainly true of the present war."

"It may be argued that the poor equally with the rich will have the opportunity to purchase war bonds. It is small comfort to have the opportunity to purchase bonds if you have little or no money to invest in bonds. The late liberty loan is a good example of bonds sold to the poor or of limited means. All the machinery of the government was set in motion to sell these bonds to the small investor. We all know that the man of small means in comparison with the advantages which the owners of large incomes could secure from investing millions of their taxable incomes in these non-taxable bonds."

Good Investment for Wealthy. "The government has made them the equivalent of an investment paying from 5 to 9 per cent and more to persons with large incomes, who will escape the income tax on every dollar thus invested; while to the wage earner and the man with a salary so small as not to be reached by the income tax who pinched and saved and sacrificed in order to purchase them, they return but a meagre 3 1/2 per cent. The result is that these bonds will soon find their way wholly into the hands of the wealthy. But this is not all. Paying for a war mainly by selling bonds inevitably raises prices, greatly increasing the cost of living to the masses."

"We are counseled by the highest economic authority, we are admonished by all history, we are commanded by every consideration of justice to the American boys who are marked for slaughter; to the American homes already in the shadow of death to declare here and now by our votes on this record that the wealth of this country will be taken as mercilessly as men are taken by force of the draft."

Have Burned Nothing Yet. "Too many people, for the comfort of the ruling classes in the warring countries of Europe are asking today why they should give their all to the government from which they have received so little while the favored classes pass through the furnace of war unscathed."

"If the billions of our people's money which we are now smilingly putting into the furnace of the European war were all we had to consider, the question would not be so serious. But if this war should last another year or two years think what it will mean to the financial resources of this country. Remember that we have not yet burned up a single dollar worth of powder; we have not yet expended a single shell, the cost of some of which exceed the annual income of the average man. It is not improbable that the entire income of all the people of the country, estimated at thirty-eight billion dollars, will not equal the money cost of the second year of this war. We must face these facts and realize the true situation in our financial policy by an adequate system of taxation at the beginning."

By keeping down taxes and increasing bonds Senator LaFollette said the masses are being "mortgaged to the money lenders."

Loans to the allies, the senator said, may and may not be repaid, certainly not for many years after the war. Russia, he said, is in the throes of a revolution and Italy, if reports are correct, is on the eve of one.

Cannot Repay for Years. "Even England and France," he added, "will be in no position to repay loans for a long time and if this war should last for several years, what political transformations may occur in any country in Europe no one can foretell."

Possibility of bread lines this winter because of the high cost of living, he pictured thus in conclusion: "All ways remember that the high prices already upon us have taxed the common people of this country for the support of this war to a much greater extent than the wealthy class would be taxed if every dollar of income of the members of that class were taken by taxation. When bread lines shall be a familiar sight in every city of this land, as they are bound to be if the present price of the simple necessities of life is maintained during the coming winter, when cold and hunger are daily visitors in many thousands of homes, which have known only comfort heretofore, a condition certain to exist during the coming winter months, unless relief from present prices can be found, it will be small satisfaction, I think, to the members of this congress to realize that they have contributed to the want and suffering of the mass of people by refusing to place even an approximate fair portion of the financial burden of this war upon the rich."

Rebukes Senators. Senator La Follette delivered his speech in his usual vigorous style and several times pointed out senators talking together and asked them to stop, saying it caused him annoyance. His address was read to a considerable number of senators reclining in the chamber and he was seldom interrupted. Occasionally dissenting from his prepared speech, the senator said his address today was based primarily upon the income tax schedule. When the war profits question is reached he promised another "thorough discussion."

HOGS AT $20 IS NEW RECORD FOR AMERICAN PORK

Chicago, Aug. 21.—Choice heavy hogs sold at $20 per hundred weight today. The price marked an advance of $3 in the last eleven days. Recent government contracts for bacon were computed by packers on the basis of $20 hogs. The following table of prices indicates the dizzy heights to which prices have been driven:

August 1, 1914	$8.90
August 1, 1915	6.85
August 1, 1916	10.30
August 1, 1917	15.30
August 21, 1917	20.00

Monday is the big day for hog receipts but there were only 18,000 head yesterday compared with the normal supply of 30,000. The number of hogs in the country is said to be increasing but they are being slaughtered earlier than ever owing to high prices and the total weight of pork is said to have shrunk alarmingly.

ARM SEVERED BY FALLING BUCKET

Young Man Critically Hurt When Hoisting Cable

The left arm of Charles Treux, of Hamilton, Ind., who rooms at 823 Barr street, was virtually severed between the elbow and the shoulder, when a bucket filled with cement fell thirty feet and struck him, Tuesday morning, shortly before noon. The accident occurred at the traction company power plant, on Spy Run avenue, where work of building a large chimney is under way. Treux is in the St. Joseph hospital. Physicians are consulting on the matter of amputating the arm.

The young man was engaged in filling the buckets and in coupling the containers to the hoist cable, at the base of the raising stack. He had fastened a bucket to the cable hook and was resting, with his arm extended against the base of the stack as a support. When the heavy cement holder dangled thirty feet above his head the cable, which was drawing the bucket upward, broke. Fellow workmen called too late. The falling container struck Treux's arm.

The member was virtually severed. The lower portion of the arm is held intact only by shreds of muscle. The police patrol was summoned at once. The wounded workman, who suffered excruciating pain, was removed to the hospital, where his condition is considered serious.

THE HEAT!

We all wouldn't mind the heat so much, if it wasn't for The guy who reminds Us of it. The articles telling How to keep cool—The red brick buildings. The tar smell of new streets. The women wearing furs. The light shoes. The stinging corn. The stiff collar. The perspiration. The thermometer. The melted butter. The sour milk and cream. The faucet's lukewarm water. The downtown warm lunch. The coming back from a vacation. The crowded street cars. The wireless night. The flat tire. And—The heat.

THE MARKETS

CORN DROPS TO LOW FIGURE FOR SEASON

Mark of $1.68 Reached on Local Market — Oats Also Drops.

A marked weakness was noted along the line on the local markets Tuesday morning. Corn, which reached the lowest mark for several months, sold at the city scales for $1.68 to $1.75 per bushel. Only two loads were weighed at these prices. Receipts were light Tuesday, only thirteen loads being weighed in all. Seven loads of new hay brought $12 per ton, a recession of $1 on the ton from the top mark of the day before.

The oats market was also weak, falling as low as 52c per bushel. Four loads were weighed at the city scales, all of them the new grain. The prices ranged from 52c to 62c per bushel.

A rise in the price of creamery butter is noted on the local market. Pound prints are now quoted at 32c wholesale, thirty to thirty pound containers going at 41¢ to 41 1/2¢ respectively.

SIGNAL CORPS MEN

HELPING RED CROSS

Children Also Greatly Aid Relief Work of Local Chapter.

Among the latest additions to the helpers of the Red Cross chapter in this city are the members of Company B, signal corps. These young men have offered their services for the past week at the headquarters, aiding greatly in carpenter work and other services.

Juvenile workers continue to do their share in the great work. Little Violet Stroud, who has been appearing at the Lyric theater in a vaudeville skit with her parents, donated the sum of $11.10 to the local chapter. This little girl is making donations to the Red Cross chapters in all the towns where she appears. She is only twelve years old.

Another donation of $3 came from five little girls who sold candy. They were Thelma and Phyllis Hanson, Julian Rohrbach, Benadette Phelps and Sylvia Weintraub.

During the past four days, a total of twenty-three new members has been received at the headquarters on East Berry street. A thorough campaign for new members is to be started soon. Many inquiries are coming in to the local headquarters in regard to the classes in the home care of the sick. A class of sixteen was recently graduated, and arrangements are being made for the opening of new classes under the instruction of Miss Frances Ott.

Enter—Fall Fashions for 1917

Le Dernier Cri

Fashion has drafted the Autumn styles. The materials have had the stamp of approval; the correct length of the coats has been determined to the fraction of an inch; the fullness of the skirts arranged to a nicety; the set of the sleeves and such important matters as the cut of the collar and slash of the pockets have received solicitous care—and the brilliant new fashions for Fall are ready!

New Suits, New Coats, New Dresses, New Blouses, in an Advance Showing Tomorrow

—and every woman who wishes to see the first authentic styles for the coming season is invited to inspect this advance showing.

The New Coats

Your love for beautiful things will be thoroughly satisfied with the new Coats for Fall—every detail is perfect.

The deep, rich materials—the gorgeous linings—the graceful sweep of the skirt—the cleverly fashioned collars and belts.

One handsome model is fashioned of tier after tier of capes, the same idea being followed out in the sleeves, and the collar of Kolinsky adding a note of richness. Other beautiful Coats are of soft duvety, with and without fur collars.

Autumn Frocks are of Serge and Satin

—Their simple, straight lines are enhanced occasionally by rich embroideries, although simplicity is the keynote of the Fall mode in dresses. Serges and satins are most popular for early Autumn wear, and black has the preference in either material. Women in the east are wearing counterparts of these clever little dresses right now, for nothing could be more practical than their simple, tailored lines.

Autumn Suits

Fashion is responsive rather than capricious. Like the robin on the lookout for his breakfast, she keeps her ear to the ground and discerns those faint stirrings which escape the denser perception. No wonder, then, that her pronouncements are so eagerly awaited and so unquestioningly accepted by her devotees.

And now, informed by this alert intelligence of hers, she foresees certain changes in the prevailing modes. Coats, for the more elaborate suits, will be long—in many instances almost to the bottom of the skirt. The many shades of brown—taupe, havana, and seal and a new color called beet root, will be smart, while among the furs to be used are nutria, flying squirrel, beaver and seal. However, we get a feminine note of gaiety even amid sombreness, for suits are to be lined with soft satin, in changeable colors, and glimmers of gold and silver thread will brighten embroidery.

But far more radical a change is that one which deprives the sleeve of its floating freedom and confines it to the lines designed by nature. Sometimes, to insure snugness, it is even buttoned to the elbow and clasped at the wrist with links. The close-fitting sleeve will, undoubtedly, bring many a devotee to the shrine of physical culture.

DUTIES QUESTIONED BY REPRESENTATIVES

Government's Interests Not Clear in Draft Cases.

Some question has arisen as to the duties of the men recently appointed to represent the government in draft subdivisions. The instructions from the state conscription agent, Jesse Eschbach, do not make the position of the new men appointed seem quite clear, it is said, by those who have been appointed in this city.

Cases of appeal or where appeals are desired to be made have been brought to Commissioner Logan and Judge Wood for information regarding cases where exemptions have been refused by exemption boards. It has been understood, however, that these men represent only the interests of the government and are interested only in the government's side of the case. The impression has been given by this that the men representing the best interests of the government will seek evidences of cases where exemptions have been granted where they should not have been. The status of these men does not seem to be clearly defined, it is pointed out.

The local representatives who have already been notified of their appointment, have been told that the offices are entirely unremunerative, but where the work is heavy enough to justify it, expense will be allowed for clerical and stenographic work. Persons in whose behalf exemption claims have been filed and disallowed, have already brought their cases before the men who represented the government's interests but the impression that they can do anything in their cases is thought to be erroneous.

TRYING NEW DUMMY.

A new traffic sign is being tried out at the corner of Washington and Calhoun streets by Police Chief Lenz. The device which holds the warning, "Keep to the right," is placed near the pavement so that street cars can pass over it. The square sign is blue lettered against a background of white. The street intersection is considered a dangerous one because of construction work going on at the corner. Chief Lenz has asked that the new traffic officer be placed at the Washington and Calhoun street corner.

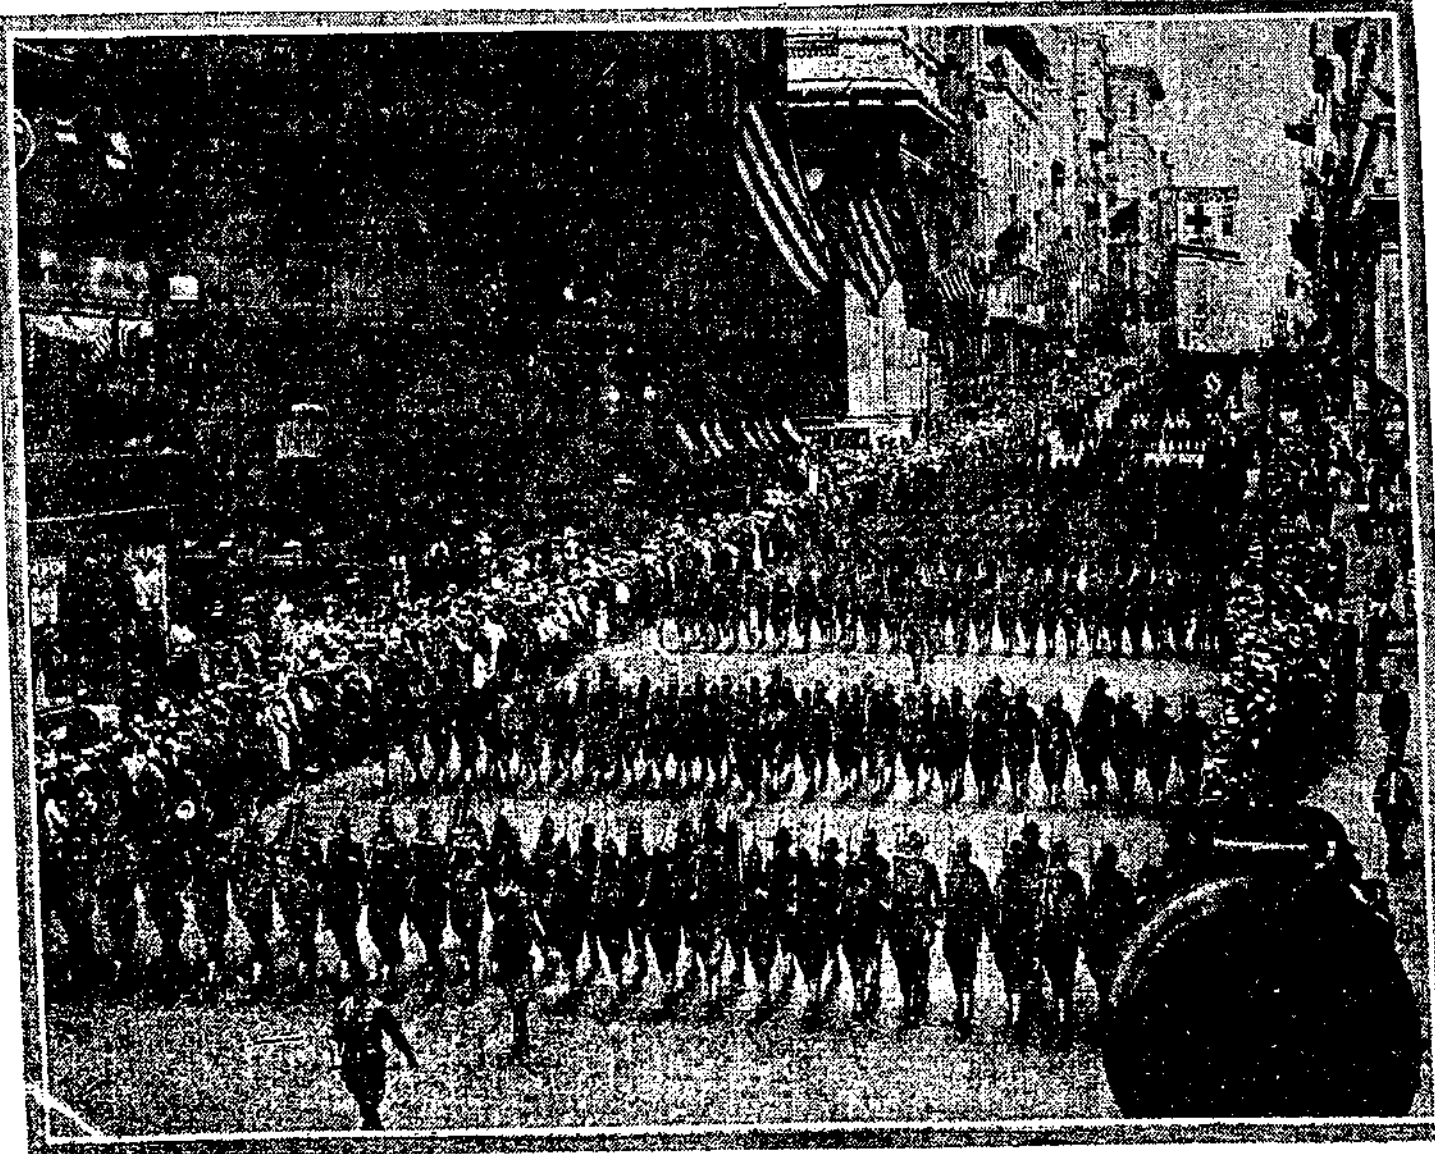

The new Packard twin six is here. See it on exhibition at Stults Motor Co., 225 West Main street.
